The message of Minister of Education
“Read by the name of Allah”

We express our gratitude to Almighty Allah who bestowed upon us life and the ability to read and write and we send endless salutation to Hazrat Muhammad (PBUP) whose first divine message from Almighty Allah is “Read”!

As it is obvious, the year of 1397 was named as “Education Year”. Therefore, Afghanistan education system will witness many fundamental quality changes in its different spheres. Teachers, students, curriculum/textbooks, schools, administrations and Parents’ Councils are the six basic elements of Afghanistan education which play an important role in expanding and developing of education of a country. At such a fateful moment, the leadership and the entire family of Afghanistan Education is committed to create fundamental changes in the development and expansion of the current education system in Afghanistan.

Thus, reforming and developing of the educational curriculum is one the key priorities of Ministry of Education (MoE). In this regard, improvement in quality, content and the process of distributing of textbooks to schools, Madrasas, and all government and private educational centers is one of the topmost priorities of MoE. We believe that without having quality curriculum and textbooks, we will not be able to achieve the sustainable development goals with regard to education in our country.

To achieve the mentioned goals and an efficient education system, we kindly request our dedicated teachers and committed school administrators who are the educators of the future generation across the country to make endless efforts to support the active learning process using the textbooks and do their best to nurture the future generation to become informed and educated citizens who are critical thinkers and have the religious and national values. Teachers should begin their lessons every day with a sense of accountability and renewed commitment in order for their students to grow into civil, responsible and effective citizens, and serve as the architects of Afghanistan’s future development.

Furthermore, I kindly request our motivated students who are the country’s future valuable assets that they should not neglect the opportunities provided to them and respectfully utilize the teaching and learning process using the scientific curiosity and benefit immensely from the knowledge of their teachers.

Last but not least, I highly appreciate the endless efforts of educational experts, educationists, and technical partners in curriculum development that actively worked day and night to develop this textbook. I wish them success from Almighty Allah in their noble efforts.

I wish we achieve a well-developed education system of high standard and an Afghanistan with free, informed and prosperous citizens.

Reading

Read the passage and then answer the questions below.

Television

The term of television is made of two words, (tele) and (vision). It means to see from a distance. Television is an improved form of radio, providing a better source of instruction and amusement. T.V is a useful source for getting education and knowledge.

We can make and broadcast effective educative programs for children and students through T.V channels. Nowadays religious scholars, intellectuals and politicians speak to the people on the T.V to guide them to the right path of morality and public virtues.

Although, television has all these advantages and facilities, we should also be aware of evils that it brings to the people. Some T.V programs can have negative influence on children. They may learn bad and violent behaviors from T.V programs. Too much watching T.V takes time away from children's reading and homework. Parents should monitor children while watching T.V.

Nonetheless, this is the responsibility of the government to have control over T.V channels and prevent them from misusing this useful source of guidance in the country.

1. What do the terms T.V stand for and what does it mean?
2. What does T.V provide to the people?
3. Who speaks to the people through T.V. to guide them to the right path?
4. What are the evils of T.V, when it is misused?
5. Who is responsible for having control over T.V. channels?

Karim: Welcome to Helmand.

Wahid: Thank you. It is nice to be here. Helmand is such a nice place.

Karim: Yes, I love it. Let's show you the hotel. You look tired. Enjoy the delicious foods and drinks.

Wahid: Yes, it was a long trip, but it was wonderful.

Karim: I knew that you may enjoy this trip.

2.

Hamidi: Welcome to our program.

Samim: Thank you Mr. Hamidi. It is nice to be with you.

Hamidi: My first question is, how did you find Laghman?

Samim: That is great, it is warm in winter and it is very hot in summer.

Hamidi: How are the people?

Samim: The people are really hospitable and friendly.

Hamidi: And the last question, what did you do there?

Samim: I visited Mehtarlam Baba shrine.

Hamidi: Thank you Mr. Samim for joining us.

Samim: You are welcome.

B. Read, learn and remember:

Why? To/ In order to

When we ask the question Why? We can answer it with To..... or In order to.....

Example: Why is Mr. Hamidi going to invite guests?

To interview them. OR In order to interview them.

Now answer these questions.

- Why is he in the studio? (interview people)
- Why do you write your homework? (practice)
- Why are they looking at the list? (find the right people)
- Why did he visit his doctor? (check his health.)
- Why does she practice the math problems? (make herself perfect)
- Why are you working hard? (pass exam)

THE FUTURE

am/ is/ are going to, indicate future events or actions.

1. Are you going to the studio? Yes, I am. No, I am not.
2. Is she going to participate in the program? Yes, she is. No, she is not.
3. Am I going to enjoy the program? Yes, you are. No, you are not.

C. Now answer these questions.

1. Is he going to look for a new job?
2. Are you going to do the wash?
3. Am I going to go with you?

D. Now see the negative form.

1. I am not going to attend the "Let's know" program.
2. She is not going to discuss with her parents.
3. They are not going to travel to Nigeria.

E. Now study these sentences.

1. Where are you going on your vacation? We are going to Sorobi.
2. What are you going to do? I am going to visit my uncle.
3. How are you going to Sorobi? I am going by car.

Will with future tense.

1. Will you be in the studio? Yes, I will. No, I will not (won't).
2. Will she participate in the program? Yes, she will. No, she will not.
3. Will I enjoy the program? Yes, you will. No, you will not.

F. Now answer these questions.

1. Will you come to the program?
2. Will they buy a new car?
3. Will they return soon?

G. Read these sentences.

1. What will you do at night? I will watch the football game.
2. Where will you go on Tuesday? We will go on a picnic.
3. When will you call me? I will call you tomorrow.
4. How many students will be in the class? Nineteen students.

H. Answer these questions.

1. Will you be in the party?
2. When will you return from the party?
3. What will you do when you graduate from high school?

Photosynthesis

During photosynthesis, a plant takes in sunlight, water, and carbon dioxide. The chlorophyll in the leaves lets the plant use these things to make food. The plant makes sugar and gives off oxygen.

Sunlight

Carbon dioxide

Chlorophyll

Oxygen

Water

Liquids

You will need

- marker
- 3 colors of water
- measuring cup
- 3 containers

- 1 Draw a line at the same height on all 3 containers. Pour water into each container to the line.
- 2 Pour the water from one container into the measuring cup. Measure, and record the number from the cup.
- 3 Repeat Step 2 for the other containers.
- 4 Compare the numbers. What can you infer?

Science Skill
You can use a measuring cup to measure the amount of a liquid.

Energy Can Move as Electricity

Light and sound are both forms of energy, and both travel in waves. Another way energy can travel is as electricity.

In the last lesson you learned that batteries can store energy so that it can be used later. The kind of energy that batteries produce is called electricity. Electricity is also produced by energy companies and sent to your home. You can use this electricity by plugging something into a wall socket.

Electricity can be used to do many things. This is because electricity can easily be changed to other forms of energy. It can be used to start a car engine, to light a lamp, to turn the blades of a fan, or to make your favorite toy move.

Have you ever made a bulb light by using a battery and some wires? The bulb lights because energy moves as electricity from the battery through the wires, to the bulb, and back to the battery. When the bulb lights, electric energy is changed to light energy. The path the electricity follows from the battery, through the bulb, and back again is called a circuit.

→ In a circuit, energy moves from the battery, through the wires, to the bulb, and then back to the battery.

Unit Three

Going to School

In this unit you are going to:

- learn the usage of Simple Present Tense and comparative adjective.
- improve your reading.
- Learn the meaning of new words.
- learn how to write a letter.
- learn how to solve a puzzle.

Conversation

Practice the following conversation with your partner.

Mr. Hamidi is interviewing a young British boy called James Brown at "Lets know" TV program.

Mr. Hamidi: James, how does a school in Britain compare with a school here?

James: Well, Mr. Hamidi, we start earlier. Children begin school at the age of five in Britain. It is compulsory. Everyone must go between the ages of five and sixteen. Of course many pupils continue until they are eighteen.

Mr. Hamidi: Do you go to the same school all the time?

James: No. But I think we go to fewer schools than Afghanistan. There are primary schools for children from the age of five to eleven. Then we go to secondary from age eleven to eighteen.

Mr. Hamidi: And what is the school day like? Is it long?

James: Well, it is completely different from Afghanistan school day, but it seems longer. We start at about 9 a.m. and go on until 12 and then there is lunch. School starts again at around 1:30 p.m. and lasts until 4:00 p.m. In secondary school, there is usually homework every evening.

Mr. Hamidi: Ok. Let's take a short break now. We'll be back in a few minute.

After Break

Mr. Hamidi: Welcome back. Let's ask James some more questions about secondary schools in Britain. James, can you choose the subject that you study in secondary school?

James: Not for the first three years, but after that, we usually choose between science and arts subjects. Everybody takes English and math. From the age of sixteen, we can specialize and study only two or three subjects.

Mr. Hamidi: Hummm, Afghan children have to study more subjects when they are older. What about exams?

James: Well, we take exams every year, but the important ones are at age of sixteen and eighteen. If we pass those exams, we can graduate and get a certificate.

Mr. Hamidi: Ok James. Thank you for your presence in our tonight's program.

James: You are welcome. Goodbye.

Lesson 2

UNIT THREE

Grammar

A. Study the following sentences and observe how comparative adjectives are used.

1. In secondary schools, Afghan students have to study more subjects than British students.
2. British students have more time than Afghan students.
3. There are fewer schools in Afghanistan than Britain.
4. The Britain school day seems longer than Afghan school day.
5. Students in Afghanistan have less time in class than students in Britain.

B. Now look at these two schools. Compare them. Use the adjectives in the box.

High wide big noisy small quiet old new bad good

The present

Do you remember this timeline?

We use simple present when an action happens regularly.

C. Read the following sentences.

1. I go to primary school.
2. We attend intermediate school.
3. They attend secondary school.
4. The headmaster introduces the new teachers.
5. She attends university.
6. The bus goes to City center.
7. She offers five times prayer regularly.
8. Lions live in jungle.

Lesson 2

UNIT THREE

D. Do you remember how to ask questions? Read these sentences.

1. Do you start your work at 9:00 a.m.?
2. Do they come to class early?
3. Do we prepare the program properly?
4. Does he speak well in the program?
5. Does she participate in the program?
6. Does the bus come on time?

E. Change the following sentences to questions.

1. We live in suburb.
2. He comes to class early.
3. You record the program for "Let's Know".
4. She attends to secondary school.
5. The dog barks.
6. They want to join the conference.

F. Read these sentences.

1. I don't like playing tennis.
2. We don't play every day.
3. You don't come to class early.
4. They don't want to go on a picnic every Friday.
5. He doesn't play well.
6. She doesn't attend to the class on Tuesdays.
7. The bus doesn't go to the city directly.

G. Read these sentences, change them to negative questions. The first sentence is made for you.

1. I study every night, because I don't have enough time during the day.
Don't I study every night because of not having enough time during the day?
2. She works for Educational TV Network.

3. We have a football match every Friday.

4. They go to Meli Guli Sorkh every year.

5. Your father returns at 4:00 o'clock from his office.

Lesson 2

UNIT THREE

6. We try to sketch a building, but we can't.

7. You often come to class late. Try to be early.

H. Complete the following sentences with the words from the box.

fewer

Example: Britain has more snow than Afghanistan.

1. There is _____ rain in Afghanistan than twenty years ago.
2. There are _____ tourists in Afghanistan than eight years ago.
3. We have _____ geography periods than sport.
4. A mechanic knows _____ about machine than a driver.
5. If you want to learn more, you must do _____ homework.
6. Most boys think football has _____ fun than volleyball.
7. We have _____ sport periods than geography.
8. Grade six has _____ subjects than grade eight.
9. Our school has _____ students than yours.
10. There are _____ motorbikes than cars.

Reading

Read the following paragraph.

Going to School in U.S.A

Every child in the U.S.A. must go to school from the age of six to sixteen, but most stay at school until they graduate at eighteen. Between those ages, they attend three different schools. From age six to twelve, children go to elementary school. From age twelve to fifteen, they attend junior high school. Finally, from fifteen to eighteen, they go to high school.

At high school, the day usually begins at about 8:30 a.m. and ends at about 3:30 p.m. Lunch lasts an hour and is usually from 12 to 1 o'clock. There is homework every evening. Pupils may choose some less important subjects at high school. But, in general, everyone takes English, math, one foreign language (often Spanish), history, geography, science (physics, chemistry and biology) and PE (Public Educations,). These subjects are compulsory until they graduate at eighteen.

In general, students do not take exams when they leave school. Instead, they earn credits for every course which they attend. They do this until they have enough credits to graduate. For example, a student may need 120 credits to graduate. If he/ she takes three English courses, he will get 30 credits. So he/ she will need 90 more credits to graduate, and so on. When a student earns all his credits, he/ she can graduate with a high school diploma. About 50 percent of American students go on to university.

Read the passage silently then answer the questions.

1. What kinds of schools do children attend in the U.S.A?
2. Do American children take exams when they leave school?
3. How many credits do students in America need to graduate?
4. Which school do children go to from age 12 to 15?
5. Which kinds of subjects do the students choose?

Lesson 4

UNIT THREE

Word study

Biology (noun): It is the science which studies plants, animals and human beings.

- If you want to understand your own body, you must study biology.
- Can you think of any jobs which need to study biology?

Chemistry (noun): It is the science which studies these questions: What are things made of? How do they join together? How do they change?

- If you want to examine your food, you must know some chemistry.
- What else can chemistry help you to understand?

Course (noun): A course is a group of lessons which go together. Or a course is also the place where the students go for getting a specific knowledge.

- c. viewer
- d. course
- e. compulsory
- f. biology

Writing

Write a paragraph about going to school in Afghanistan.

Activities

Comparing schools in different countries

A. Study this table with your partner.

	Afghanistan	Britain	U.S.A
1. How old are the children when they start primary school?	7	5	6
2. How old are children when they graduate from high school?	18	16	16
3. How many schools do the children usually attend?	2	2	3
4. What time does the school day start?	7:00 a.m.	9:00 a.m.	8:30 a.m.
5. What time does the school day finish?	11:30 a.m.	4:00 p.m.	3:30 p.m.
6. How many hours do the children spend in class	Four and half hours	6 hours	6 hours
7. How many subjects do the pupils study in high school?	18	2 or 3	All

B. Now make sentences. Use the table to compare schools in the different countries. The words in box below will help you.

shorter later more older earlier longer younger

Example: Schools in Afghanistan start earlier than schools in Britain.

1. _____.
2. _____.
3. _____.
4. _____.
5. _____.
6. _____.
7. _____.
8. _____.

Activities

Comparing School in Different Countries

A. Practice the following conversation with your partner.

Student A: Hello. You are from Saudi Arabia, aren't you?

Student B: Yes, I am.

Student A: What is it like? Does everybody have to go to school?

Student B: Yes, everybody goes to school nowadays.

Student A: Do you have a long day in school?

Student B: Well, we start at about 7:00 in the morning and finish at around 1:00 in the afternoon.

Student A: How often do you have homework?

Student B: Every evening.

Student A: Do you take exams or earn credits to get a school certificate?

Student B: We take exams.

Student A: It sounds interesting, doesn't it?

Student B: Yes, it does.

B. Use the words in the table below to make conversation like the one above about New Zealand and Canada.

Country	New Zealand	Canada
Is school compulsory?	Yes	Yes
Length of school day?	9 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.	8:30 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.
Homework?	Every evening	Every evening
Exams or credits	Exams	Both

C. Use the information in this unit to make conversations like the one above about Britain and the U.S.A.

Lesson 5

Unit Four

People's lives

In this unit, you are going to:

- know different types of houses.
- learn Simple Past Tense.
- know how people lived in the past.
- know shapes of houses.
- learn new words.
- learn descriptive writing.

Listening

A. Listen to your teacher while reading the following paragraphs about houses then read them aloud.

Houses

Thousands of years ago, people lived in caves. They sheltered there from poor weather conditions. In cold climates, they could light fires. In hot ones, they could keep cool. So their caves were natural places, not man made.

The cavemen could protect themselves from dangers like wild animals. They felt safer and more comfortable there. But caves weren't very comfortable places. Cavemen didn't have any furniture. They probably covered the floor with grass, leaves or animal skins. And they sometimes drew pictures on the walls to decorate them.

There are big differences between those caves and our modern houses.

Nowadays, we build houses with many materials, like concrete and steel. These houses shelter us better than caves. We use more comfortable furniture. We make our houses more beautiful, too, with ornaments and pictures. Of course, they cost a lot of money. But that is another subject.

B. Answer the following questions.

1. What are the differences between caves and modern houses?
2. What is the opposite of comfortable?
3. How did people live thousands years ago?
4. What do you mean by ornaments?
5. How did people cover the floors thousands years ago?
6. How do people build their houses nowadays?
7. Why did people live in caves?
8. How did they decorate their caves? And how do we decorate our houses?
9. Have you ever seen a cave where people lived thousands years ago?
10. If you were a man of thousands years ago, what would you do to save yourself?

Lesson 2

UNIT FOUR

Conversation

A. Practice the following conversation with your partner.

Yusof: There is a big difference between those caves and our modern houses, isn't there?

Murtaza: Yes, there is.

Yusof: You know what they wore?

Murtaza: They used leaves of the trees and animal's skin.

Yusof: How did they cover the floor?

Murtaza: They used grass, leaves of plants or animal skins to cover the floor.

Yusof: Their life wasn't comfortable, was it?

Murtaza: No, it wasn't, but they didn't know more.

Yusof: How did people improve their life conditions?

Murtaza: By working hard. Don't you see the high buildings and the vehicles? They are the results of hard work of the human beings.

Yusof: How did they decorate their houses?

Murtaza: They drew pictures on the walls of the caves.

Yusof: How did they keep themselves warm?

Murtaza: They lighted fire.

Yusof: Now I know; how those people lived thousands years ago.

B. Is it important to work hard? Why?

Grammar

SIMPLE PAST TENSE

Do you remember this timeline?

We use simple past tense when an action or activity started and ended at particular time in the past.

A. Read these sentences and notice the usage and change of the verbs.

1. Thousands of years ago, people lived in caves.
2. They could light fire.
3. In the caves, people felt safer.
4. The floor was covered with grass.
5. They didn't have comfortable lives .
6. They didn't wear clothes like us.
7. I didn't know more about cavemen.

Lesson 2

B. Look at these verbs.

live/ lives	lived	lived
shelter/ shelters	sheltered	sheltered
am/ is/ are	was/ were	been
draw	drew	drawn
feel/ feels	felt	felt
have/ has	had	had

Remember:

Regular verbs take "d or ed" to form their second or past participle.
 Irregular verbs change in different ways.

C. Write down which of the above verbs are regular and which are irregular.

D. Now see the changes of the verbs in questions and negative sentences.

Regular: Caveman covered the floor.

- | | |
|---|---------------------------------|
| 1. Did they cover the floor? | Yes, they did. No, they didn't. |

_____.
4. The caves sheltered them from the eyes of wild animals.
_____.
5. It sheltered them from the bad weather.
_____.
6. They covered the floor with animal skins.
_____.

G. Ask questions with the words in parenthesis.

1. Cavemen lived somewhere. (where)
2. They covered the floor with something. (What)
3. They had fires in the caves. (why)
4. They didn't have any furniture. (why)
5. They protect themselves from dangerous animals. (how)

Reading

A. Read the following article.

Different Kinds of Houses

In some parts of the earth, it rains or snows a lot. It also gets cold, especially in the winter. Some of the houses are stone built and have sloping wall. They are box shaped and have flat roofs. The rooms in many of these houses are small. They have thick walls and low ceilings. In this way, people can keep themselves warm more easily.

In some parts of Southeast Asia, there are plenty of trees. The climate is hot and humid. It rains a lot too. Therefore, some people build houses with sloping roofs and thin walls of planks or leaves. These houses stand on wooden legs. In that way, the wind can blow around and into them and keep them cool. Their legs keep them dry above water.

In our beautiful country, we have different climate. In the central part of the country, the weather is cold and people live in houses made of clay and bricks, but in east of the country, some people live in houses made of wood, and some people live in houses made of stones.

B. Answer the questions in your notebooks.

1. When does it usually get cold?
2. How are the houses built in the rainy and cold areas?
3. What is the climate like in Southeast Asia?
4. Why do people build houses with sloping roofs and thin walls?
5. Why do houses in Southeast Asia stand on wooden legs?
6. How is the climate in the city you live in?
7. How do the people build their houses in the central parts of Afghanistan?
8. Have you ever lived in a house made of wood?

Grammar

... had better ...

We use “had better” for a specific situation, or when we think something should happen. Or we use “had better” to give advice or make recommendations. The negative of “had better” is “had better not and it often carries a warning of bad consequences.

1. You had better take some dollars.
2. You had better go to a bank.
3. I had better change 5000 Afghanis.
4. You had better not travel to tropical countries.
5. She had better not stay out late.

The contraction form of (had better) is ('d better).

1. I'd better finish my homework.
2. He'd better study hard.
3. We'd better not to waste our time.

A. Complete the sentences with the correct word from the chart.

stay	study	talk	attend	smoke
------	-------	------	--------	-------

1. She had better _____ hard to pass the exam.
2. You had better not _____ in the office.
3. They had better _____ the party.
4. He'd better _____ to his father about his choice.
5. I'd better not _____ out late.

B. Make sentences for the given words in the chart by using had better.

wash	do	drink	correct	wake up	go	study
------	----	-------	---------	---------	----	-------

C. Tag question: Tag question is a short yes/no question which is used at the end of a statement and asks for confirmation, or we use tag question to confirm the information we are not sure/ certain about.

Read these sentences.

You haven't got any visa card, have you?

No, I haven't.

Note

If a statement is positive, the tag question should be negative. If a statement is negative, the tag should be positive.

A. Read the following sentences.

1. You didn't rent a car, did you?

Lesson 2

They were at the party, weren't they?

5. We can spend our holidays in Paghman, _____?
6. I won't play football in this team anymore, _____?

C. ('s) and (s') or possessive nouns:

We use ('s) after those singular and plural nouns not ending in (s). We only use (s') after those plural nouns ending in (s) to show possession or ownership. For asking about possession or ownership, we use the word whose.

Example:

Whose book is this? It is Omer's (book).
 The children's father bought them a computer.
 The boys' school is located far away from here.

Note: Also you can use possessive pronouns or possessive adjectives instead of possessive nouns ('s or s').

Reading

Afghan Currency

Before 1891, the people of Afghanistan used to use silver Rupees with copper Falus and gold Mohur as the currency of Afghanistan. In 1891, a new currency was introduced, based on the Kabuli rupee. The rupee was subdivided into 60 paisa, each of 10 dinar. Other denominations issued included the Shahi of 5 paisa, the Sanar of 10 paisa, the Abbasi of 20 paisa, the Qiran of 30 paisa and the Tilla and later the Amani, both of 10 Rupee.

The first Afghani (AFA) was introduced by the government of Afghanistan in 1925, replacing the Afghan rupee. In addition to being subdivided into 100 pul, 20 Afghani were equal to one Amani. The Afghani initially contained 9 grams of silver. Ironically, the currency itself was first issued by Afghan monarch Sher Shah Suri during his rule of northern India.

Between 1925 and 1928, Treasury notes were introduced in denominations of 5, 10 and 50 Afghani. In 1936, 2, 20 and 100 Afghani notes were added. The Bank of Afghanistan took over paper money production in 1939, issuing notes for 2, 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 500 and 1000 Afghani. The 2 and 5 Afghani notes were replaced by coins in 1958. In 1993, 5000 and 10,000 Afghani notes were introduced. Between October 7, 2002, and January 2, 2003, a new Afghani was introduced. The new Afghani replaced the previous Afghani at a rate of 1000 to the new Afghani, and it was valued at 43 Afghani to the U.S. dollar.

Lesson 3

UNIT FIVE

Let's look carefully at the newest one hundred Afghanis note. It is 14.5 centimeters long and 6 centimeters wide. Its main colors are purple, blue and white. On the front, there is a picture of Pul-e- Khishti Mosque in the right side and a picture of Mirwis Nikkah grave in secret in the left. The value (the number of Afghani) appears both in English and Dari in three corners. The serial number appears in black color in the top left corner and down in the right corner. On the back, you can see the gate of Qal'ai Bost in Lashkargah and the value appears again both in English and Dari all four corners.

Now answer the following questions.

1. What were the people of Afghanistan using as currency before 1891 in Afghanistan?
2. What was the currency introduced after 1891 in Afghanistan?
3. When was the first Afghani introduced in Afghanistan, and what did it replace?
4. What were the treasury notes used between 1925 and 1928?
5. When did the Bank of Afghanistan take over the paper money production?
6. When was the new currency introduced, and at what rate the previous Afghani was replaced by the new one?
7. What are the colors of 100-Afghanis note?

Talking about Airlines and Flights

A. Read this conversation then practice it with your partner.

Student A: Good morning. Are you going to Abu Dhabi, too?

Student B: Yes, I am.

Student A: Which flight are you in?

Student B: KamAir116.

Student A: I think we are in the same flight. My name is Ahmad Malik.

Student B: Nice to meet you, Ahmad Malik. I am Ahmad Fawad.

Student A: Nice to meet you too, Ahmad Fawad. Is this your first flight?

Student B: Yes, it is and I am so scared.

Student A: Don't worry. It is more comfortable than traveling by bus.

Student B: Do you know when the flight will take off?

Student A: At 10:30 a.m. and it will land by 12:30 p.m. at Abu Dhabi airport. What do you do there?

Student B: I am going to visit my cousin. He has lived there since 2000. How about you?

Student A: I am a business man. I have a trade center in Abu Dhabi.

B. Read the paragraph below. It gives the same information as the above conversation.

I am flying to Abu Dhabi. I am not flying with Abu Dhabi Airways. I am flying on KamAir Airways in flight number kam116. It will take off at 10:30 a.m. in the morning and will land at 12:30 p.m. in the afternoon.

Now make another conversation like the one above.

Unit Seven

Pilgrimage Program

In this unit, you are going to:

- learn the usage of “have something done”.
- Improve your reading skill.
- learn how to write a descriptive paragraph.
- learn new words.

Conversation

During the Hajj program

A. Practice the following conversation with your partner.

Do you remember Jabar? He and his friends are on Hajj now. Hamidi and his team have come to Hajj too. They once again came across with Mr. Jabar Khan. He wanted to interview him.

Mr. Hamidi: Good afternoon viewers. We are here at Muzdalifah. Jabar Khan has just finished praying. Assalamu Alaikum, Jabar Khan. How are you?

Jabar Khan: Wa Alaikum Assalam, Mr. Hamidi, I am fine, Allah be praised.

Mr. Hamidi: What have you done so far? Can you tell us?

Jabar Khan: Of course. Yesterday, we started from Miqat. First, we put on special white clothes (Ihram). Then, we went to the Holy Mosque and walked around Ka'abah-e-Sharif seven times (Tawaf). After that, we hastened seven times between the hills of Safa and Marwa. Next, we went to Mina, stayed there at night and prayed five times. Then, we went to Arafat. We stayed at Arafat all the day and came here to Muzdalifah after the sunset. But when we got there, we prayed Mghrib and Isha combined and shortened the prayer of Isha in two Rakaets.

Mr. Hamidi: What are you going to do after this?

Jabar Khan: Well, we will stay here until we pray the Fajar prayer. Then we will go to Mina after the sun rises. On our way to Mina, we will collect small stones (pebbles).

Lesson 1

UNIT SEVEN

Mr. Hamidi: What are you going to do with the small stones? Will you tell the viewers?

Jabar Khan: Of course. Everyday, we have to throw seven small stones at pillars that represent Satan. There are three pillars. We will spend three days there.

Mr. Hamidi: What else happens there?

Jabar Khan: Well, on the first day at Mina, we also sacrifice animals, e.g. one sheep/ goat for one person.

Mr. Hamidi: And what is going to happen after Mina?

Jabar Khan: Then we will have our heads shaved and we will take off the special white clothes. After that, we will walk around Ka'abah seven times for performing Fardh Tawaf. Then we will hasten seven times between the hills of Safa and Marwa again. We will come back to Mina for three days. By the end of the third day, we will walk around Ka'abah seven times as a farewell (weda) Tawaf. Finally we will complete successfully Hajj.

B. Answer the following questions.

1. Do pilgrims put on special white clothes (Ihram)?
2. Where do pilgrims collect small stones from?
3. What happens on the first day at Mina?
4. When do pilgrims have their heads shaved?
5. When will the Hajj performance be complete?

Grammar

HAVE SOMETHING DONE

We use "have something done" when we do not or cannot do something ourselves and ask someone else to do it for us and it is called causative passive vice.

Examples:

Jalil had the roof of the room repaired yesterday.

Your hair looks nice. Have you had it cut?

I think you should have your coat cleaned soon.

How often do you have your hair cut?

I am going to have my room painted tomorrow.

I am having my bicycle fixed right now.

Note: You can also use get something done instead of have something done.

I think you should get your hair cut. (have your hair cut)

My car is too dirty. I should get it washed. (have it washed)

A. Answer the following questions.

Example: Why did you take your car to the garage?

To have it fixed.

1. Why did you take your jacket to the laundry?
2. Your room looks nice. Have you painted it?
3. Why do you go to the hairdresser?
4. Why do you go to the electrician?
5. Why have you gone to the mechanic?

B. Write sentences according to the example.

1. Jalil didn't repair the roof himself.
He had it repaired.
2. I didn't cut my hair myself.
3. _____
They didn't paint the house themselves.
4. _____
She didn't sew the curtain herself.
5. _____
We haven't painted our car ourselves.
6. _____
We are not going to fix our car ourselves.

Reading

A. Read the following paragraph about Ka'abah-e Sharif.

Ka'abah-e-Sharif

Ka'abah (Bytullah-e-Sharif), the most sacred place for Muslims, was built by Prophet Ibrahim (peace be upon him) and his son Prophet Ismail (peace be upon him). Since then, the Arabs used to perform Hajj to Ka'abah. When Prophet Mohammed (PBUH), preached Islam to all mankind, performing Hajj to Ka'abah became the fifth pillar of Islam.

Ka'abah is a 13.8 meter high, box shaped building. Its north and south walls are 11 meters long, and its east and west walls are 9.6 meters wide. Ka'abah is built of grey stone and it stands on a marble base which is 23 centimeters high.

The four walls of Ka'abah are covered with a black curtain (Kiswah). This curtain is covered with writing in silver and gold. The curtain is replaced by the government of Saudi Arabia once a year. It is made in a factory in Makkah.

The door which leads inside Ka'abah is made of gold. Inside, there are two rows of wooden pillars and many gold and silver lamps. The floor is covered with marbles.

Near the door in the eastern corner of Ka'abah, there is the black stone called Hajarul Aswad. This is encased in a silver frame.

B. Answer the following questions.

1. Who built Ka'abah?
2. When did the Arabs begin performing Hajj?
3. Where does the curtain come from?
4. How often is it replaced?
5. How high is Ka'abah?
6. What is the door of Ka'abah-e- Sharif made of?
7. What is the name of the black stone?

DIRECT AND INDIRECT SPEECH

Read these sentences: We use indirect speech to reproduce the main idea of the speaker's words not all the exact words of the speaker.

Direct Speech

1. Wait!
2. Don't close the window.
3. I am studying English.
4. You worked very hard.

Indirect Speech

- He told us to wait.
- My mother told me not to close the window.
- She said that she was studying English.
- He said that I had worked very hard.

RULES OF CHANGING DIRECT INTO INDIRECT SPEECH.

Rules for direct speech

1. A comma must be used after the main verb.
- Example: He said,
2. The narrated speech must be written between quotation marks.
- Example: He said, "I will come."
3. The first letter of the sentence in narration must be in capital.
- Example: He said, "We will come."

Rules for indirect speech

1. The comma and quotation marks are omitted in the indirect speech.
2. To connect the main clause to subordinating clause, the conjunction (that) is used.
3. The pronouns are changed according to the speaker and reporter.
- Example: He said that he would come.

Note: When the main verb is in the simple present tense, neither the tense nor the adverbs are changed.

Example: He says, "I am working now."

He says that he is working now.

A. Change the following sentences from direct to indirect speech.

Example: The food is too costly.

She said that the food was too costly.

- | | |

Reading

A. Read the following paragraphs. They give information about eating customs around the world.

A Guide to Dining Customs

Meals can mean different things to people in different countries.

1. The main meal

In many western countries, the main meal of the day is usually dinner, but in many Arab countries it is lunch.

2. Time to arrive

If you are invited to a meal in Europe, you are expected to come on time. In Afghanistan, you may come one or half hour earlier. In some South American countries, it is all right to appear two or three hours later.

3. Gifts

In many countries, you may take a small gift, like chocolates or flowers. In Egypt, you take flowers to weddings or a house where someone is sick, but not if you are invited to a meal. In Afghanistan, you may take flowers or clothes to weddings, but fruits for the one who is sick.

4. Eating habits

In some countries, you are welcome to eat with your hands. In most of Europe, however, dinner is always eaten with utensils – usually knives, forks and spoons. Hands are rarely used. In the Islamic countries, Muslims eat with the right hand only; either with or without utensils. Muslims should say “Bismillah” (In the name of Allah) in the beginning and Al – Hamdulillah (praise be to Allah) at the end of their meals. Then they wash their hands and mouths.

Lesson 3

UNIT EIGHT

5. Conversation

In most countries, it is good to talk during the meal. It is polite to say nice things about the house and the cooking.

6. After the meal

After the meal in Europe, it is polite to stay between one and two hours before leaving. You can then thank your host before you go. It is appreciated if you either write a note of thanks or phone soon afterwards. But in our country Afghanistan the guest thanks before leaving the host house.

It is better to find out something about the people's customs before you visit them. That way, you will do the right thing and enjoy the meal more.

B. Answer the following questions.

1. Do all people have the same dining customs?
2. What is the main meal of the day in your country?
3. Why do all Muslims eat with their right hands?
4. What does "gift" mean?
5. Give the opposites of "rarely" and "early"?
6. Tell your classmates about any dining customs you know.

Writing

A. Mary is your friend from New Zealand whom you asked about their eating customs. He has just sent you a letter providing you the information.

21 Old Street,
New town 45931,
New Zealand.
12th December 2009.

Dear Zarmina,

Thank you for your letter. You asked me about our dining customs in New Zealand.

The main meal of the day for most New Zealanders is dinner. Guests usually arrive on time or a few minutes later. They sometimes take a small gift with them but it is not expected.

In summer, barbecues are popular. The meat is cooked outside on an open fire. The food is put on a table and everyone serves himself/herself. People usually sit together in small groups. They eat barbecues with either a knife or fork or with their hands.

When the meal ends, guests often help to carry things into the house. They usually stay for at least an hour after the meal. They normally telephone or write during the next week to say thank you.

I hope that the information would be interesting for you. Please write and tell me about your eating customs. I am very interested. Please don't forget to send it soon.

Best wishes
Mary

Traditional Games

In this unit, you are going to:

- learn the usage of reporting questions in “direct and indirect speech”.
- read and know traditional games.
- read a letter to improve your reading skill.
- write a descriptive letter.
- learn new words.

Lesson 1

UNIT NINE

Conversation

A. Mr. Young, who is an American writer, has written a book about children's games. He is having a discussion with Mr. Hamidi.

Mr. Hamidi: Is this your first book, Mr. Young?

Mr. Young: Yes, it is.

Mr. Hamidi: What is the title?

Mr. Young: It is called "Learning at Home".

Mr. Hamidi: What is the aim of your book?

Mr. Young: To show the importance of games for young children. I think they learn a lot from it.

Mr. Hamidi: What do they learn?

Mr. Young: They learn to use their brains and bodies. Most games make children think and move. Of course, they learn much more when someone else plays with them; an older sister, for instance.

Mr. Hamidi: How does that help?

Mr. Young: Well, an older sister can show her younger brother or sister what to do and how to do it. Also, games are much more exciting when two or more people play together. Learning is easier when it is fun.

Mr. Hamidi: So, older sisters can really help their younger brothers and sisters.

B. Answer the following questions.

1. What is the title of Mr. Young's first book?
2. What is the book about?
3. Is playing games useful for children? Tell your idea.
4. What is the importance of helping younger brothers?
5. How can we make the learning process easier?

REPORTING QUESTIONS

Read these sentences.

Direct speech: He said, "Do you remember me?"

Indirect speech: He asked me whether/ if I remembered him.

Direct speech: She recalled me, "Where do you study English?"

Indirect speech: She wanted to know where I studied English.

Direct speech: Ahmad said, "Had you finished the work?"

Indirect speech: Ahmad asked me whether/ if I had finished the work.

Direct speech: She said, "Where does Shaboo live?"

Indirect speech: She wanted to know where Shaboo lived.

Direct speech: "Will you meet my uncle at the party?" said Ferooz.

Indirect speech: Ferooz inquired whether/ if I would meet his uncle at the party.

Rules of changing reporting questions

In reporting questions the indirect speech is introduced by some verbs such as asked, inquired, etc.

When the question is not introduced by an interrogative word, the reporting verb is followed by whether or if.

Change the following questions from direct to indirect speech.

Example: The manager said, "What are you doing?"

The manager inquired what I was doing.

He said to me, "Is he from Egypt?"

The police asked if he was from Egypt.

1. My father said, "What are you doing?"
2. "Where do you live?" asked the stranger.
3. The policeman said to us, "Where are you going?"
4. He said, "Will you come listen to me?"
5. "Do you speak English?" the director said.
6. She said, "How are you?"
7. The teacher said, "Where is your book?"
8. "How much did you buy the jacket?" my father said.
9. The shopkeeper said, "Did you like the jacket?"

GAMES

Read the following paragraphs about childhood games in the world.

People have played games for thousands of years. Cavemen probably played by throwing and catching sticks of animal bones. Later, these were replaced by balls. Old Egyptian wall pictures show women who are playing ball games. They were drawn around four thousand years ago.

One game with string, called Cat's Cradle in English, started in China thousands of years ago. Since then, it has spread all over the world. In the Arctic, women play it in order to fill their long days in the summer time.

Some games started in Greece. One is called "Drop the Handkerchief". A group of children makes a circle, except for one child called "It". "It" stands outside the circle. All the members of the circle remain standing or sitting without moving. "It" walks around the outside of the circle with a handkerchief while the group says or sings.

I sent a letter to my friend
And on the way I dropped it
One of you has picked it up
And put it in your pocket.

Before the end, "It" drops the handkerchief behind one of the players in the circle. That player runs around the outside of the circle as fast as possible. 'It' runs the opposite way round. Each tries to get back to the empty place in the circle that the player has left. The one who loses is the next "It". Then the game starts again.

There are many games played by children of our country. One, which is very popular among our children is the play of Wolf and Sheep "Goorg wa Bara". A group of children makes a circle, except for two called wolf and sheep. The sheep stands inside the circle and the wolf outside. All the other members of the circle remain standing and sometimes sitting. The wolf tries to catch the sheep. The sheep runs till he is caught by the wolf. If the wolf can't catch the sheep, he loses the game.

GAMES DESCRIPTIONS

Read the following games instruction.

Blind man's Buff is played outside. It is best to have a team of 8 to 10 children. One child blind folded with a piece of cloth and tries to catch the others. The one who is caught starts the new game.

“Hide and Seek” is played outside. The number of the children is not important. First, the children stand in a circle saying the numbers from ten to hundred. The one who says hundred leaves the circle. The games continues till all children leave. The one who remains in the circle closes his/ her eyes and reads the multiplication of five. During the multiplication, the other children hide in a place. The one who closed his/ her eyes tries to find them. When he finds a member says (Tapa). If the others could hit him from behind saying (As Ples), he loses the game.

Jez Bazi is a game played outside by the girls. The game starts with drawing of a table on the ground. Actually, there are three kinds of tables; one of the tables is like rectangular table which is divided in two sides. Every side has six square cells. At the end of the left side is a square cell which is divided in two parts. Then a girl starts the game by throwing a flat stone in the first cell of the table. She moves by one leg and kicks the flat stone by her foot from one cell to another cell until she reaches at the top of the table. There, she stands and throws the flat stone in the first cell of the left side and then moves by one leg and kicks the flat stone to out it from the table.

- learn the usage of Gerund.
- learn the usage of Conjunction.
- Improve your reading skill.
- learn how to fill a registration form.
- learn new words.

conversation

A. Practice the following conversation with your partner.

At the Hospital

Mr. Hamidi is not at work today. He has gone to the hospital.

Doctor: Come in.

Mr. Hamidi: Good morning.

Doctor: Good morning. How are you?

Mr. Hamidi: I am not feeling very well.

Doctor: Oh, really? What is the matter?

Mr. Hamidi: Well, I have earache, a sore throat and a pain in chest.

Doctor: When did they start?

Mr. Hamidi: My chest started hurting last Tuesday.

Doctor: Does it hurt all the time?

Mr. Hamidi: Cough! Cough! No, it only hurts when I cough.

Doctor: When was the last time you had an X-ray?

Mr. Hamidi: I am not sure, but maybe a year ago.

Doctor: OK. The nurse will take your temperature and check your pulse. After that, I am going to listen to your heart and lungs. Then we'll have an X-ray taken.

Mr. Hamidi: What do you think doctor? What causes it?

Doctor: I am not sure yet. We'll soon find out the cause.

Mr. Hamidi: Do you think it is serious, doctor?

Reading

A. Read the following paragraph about health care in Afghanistan.

Health care centers in Afghanistan

There are three main kinds of health care centers in Afghanistan. First, there are small clinics and hospitals in all areas and districts of Afghanistan. These aim to treat sickness and simple diseases and to prevent diseases in their local population. Second, there are general hospitals in towns. Third, there are specialized, and surgery centers in Kabul, Mazar-e-Sharif, Herat and Nangarhar. They treat patients with, for example, eye, heart, kidney, surgery and many more problems and if it is necessary, they can operate patients.

Patients at the government hospitals are treated with the most modern equipment and medicine. Inpatients are looked after, day and night, by trained nurses and doctors. Others who want treatment at the hospital have to register at the outpatients department. After giving details such as name, age and their problems to the registration officer, they can see the specialists in their problems. If the problem is not serious, the doctors give them prescriptions and they can go home. If it sounds serious, the doctors send them to the inpatient service to hospitalize and treat them.

If necessary, test results are checked and then treatment is started and they hope that all patients get better as quickly as possible.

B. Answer the following questions.

1. Is health care free in Afghanistan?
2. What are the three main kinds of health care in Afghanistan?
3. Who look after the inpatients?
4. What should the outpatients do first?
5. If the problem sounds serious, what will the doctor do?

REPORTING QUESTIONS

How to report a question?

When the question is Yes/ No, it is introduced by if/ whether, but if it is an interrogative question, we use the interrogative word itself in reporting.

1. The boy said, "Will you buy me a book?"
The boy asked if/ whether I would buy him a book.
2. "Do you go to school at 8:00 today" said my neighbor.
My neighbor wanted to know if I went to school at 8:00 that day.
3. "Where is Naqib?" said the teacher.
The teacher inquired where Naqib was.
4. "What are you doing?" said my father.
My father asked me what I was doing.

Note: To do verbs are omitted from indirect questions.

- "Do you have a red car?" said the shopkeeper.
The shopkeeper inquired if I had a red car.
- The teacher said, "Did you have homework?"
The teacher wanted to know if we had homework.

Read the following questions then change them to indirect speech.

1. "Do you know French?" said the French man.
2. "Where do you live" said the new student.
3. My cousin said, "Are we going to Salang?"
4. "I am a student?" said the sick boy.

LEARNING MORE

Mr. Hamidi is interviewing the director of a private English language course.

Mr. Hamidi: Mr. Omer, it is almost winter, all the students are on their vacation. Some of them would like to visit their relatives and some want to study in courses, especially English language and computer courses. Can you tell us about the possibilities for the students who like to learn English in your Educational Center?

Mr. Omer: Yes, of course. There are two main opportunities we have been providing for the students since 2007

Mr. Hamidi: Would you mind telling us those opportunities?

Mr. Omer: One we have winter offers and the second is that they can learn English for different purposes.

Mr. Hamidi: What are the winter offers?

Mr. Omer: The winter offer is the cheap fee that we have been giving since 2009 for the students.

Mr. Hamidi: what is the discount rate for students?

Mr. Omer: For the girls, 50 percent and for the boys 40 percent.

Mr. Hamidi: Is there any other difference between your English center and others?

Mr. Omer: The main difference is having a modern system of teaching with great facilities. Besides that, we prepare them random tests and quizzes.

Mr. Hamidi: Any other difference you have forgotten?

Mr. Omer: Mmm, yes once per month they have an English teacher who is from Britain. The teacher has been working with us for three years.

Mr. Hamidi: Well, Thanks Mr. Omer.

Mr. Omer: You are welcome.

Answer the following questions.

1. Do you take any course on your vacation?
2. What are the two main opportunities the center has been providing since 2008?
3. How much discount does the English language center give to the girls?

Mr. Faiz Muhammad: My name is Faiz Muhammad.

Mr. Hamidi: What do you do?

Mr. Faiz Muhammad: I am a teacher in vocational school.

Mr. Hamidi: Can you help us please?

Mr. Faiz Muhammad: What can I do for you?

Mr. Hamidi: We'd like to know what all these trainees are doing.

Mr. Faiz Muhammad: Well, this is a general workshop.

There are several courses going on here at the same time.

Mr. Hamidi: What is happening over there, for instance?

Mr. Faiz Muhammad: That is where they are learning to weld. Welding is a useful skill for trainees wanting to get jobs in industry or farming.

Mr. Hamidi: What about the other groups?

Mr. Faiz Muhammad: The nearest one is doing carpentry and the furthest one is learning about refrigeration.

Mr. Hamidi: Do all the courses take place in here?

Mr. Faiz Muhammad: No, they don't. There is another building for courses in commerce. There they learn about office work, banking and so on.

Mr. Hamidi: That is very interesting. Thank you very much for helping us.

Mr. Faiz Muhammad: You are welcome.

Mr. Hamidi: Well, viewers. I am afraid that is all we have time for. We hope you have enjoyed our programs. From all of us in the studio, good bye!

B. Answer the following questions.

1. What can trainees learn in a vocational school?
2. Is welding a useful skill for trainees who want to be farmers? Why?
3. Have you ever gone to any vocational school?

Reading

A. Read the paragraph about a technical school in Afghanistan.

Technical and Vocational Education in Kabul

In 1955, the first technical school was opened in Kabul with the support of America. Since that time, the Afghan government has spent a lot of money on technical training. The government aim is to train more of its citizens in various skills such as carpentry, electricity, car repairing and so on.

The government operates different kinds of technical departments. They are industrial and commercial which are located in different provinces of Afghanistan. Males and females can apply for admission into technical schools when they are nine class graduates or have the high school diploma.

Grade nine graduates are admitted into Technical and Vocational schools whereas grade 12 graduates can get admission into Technical and Vocational institutes and achieve grade 14th diplomas.

During the training, trainees who come from provinces are given government grants and free accommodation. Many of the trainees are immediately employed by governmental offices.

Students hoping to work in industry learn skills such as car mechanics, car body repair, painting, refrigeration, air conditioning, electricity, radio and TV.

The government's technical schools have prepared thousands of students for jobs. The number of young Afghans entering the technical school continues to grow.
