Dear teachers and students,

As education is the foundation of progress and development in all countries, curriculum is one of the most important elements of education. In our country the new curriculum is designed in accordance with the modern academic developments and needs of the people. It is obvious that the scientific developments and the needs of the people are also in progress constantly. I hope that the book will be taught in accordance with the active teaching methods, the teaching guide and the intended curriculum plan. The guardians and parents of the students are also required to support their daughters and sons in a qualitative education constantly to attain the goals and objectives of the education system and to have desirable achievements for students and our country. I am sure that our respected teachers will discharge their responsibilities honestly in the effective implementation of the curriculum.

The Ministry of Education is working constantly to develop the curriculum according to the teachings of Islam, sense of patriotism, scientific standards and the utter requirements of the people. So, all the academic personalities, scholars in the field of education of the country, guardians and parents are requested to support our authors and writers in further improvement of the compiling of textbooks by their constructive perspectives and suggestions.

Qabuli palau	Buz Kashi	Hamburger

Reading

- A. – Why is it important to know about greeting customs?
– How are International Schools different from local schools?

At Oxford International School, I learned that greeting customs differ from one country to another. Normally, students greet each other saying hi, hello, or good morning. However, on special occasions, each practices his traditional way of greeting.

My Japanese friends occasionally like to use their famous “Ojigi” to greet each other. They bow to say good morning, hello or good bye. Dilip and Raj use the Indian Namaste to greet each other. They press the palms of their hands together and lift them up to their chins. Then they say “Namaste”. Filipino students shake hands, but close friends pat each other on the back and say “Kamusta”. John, Jack and Patrick from Britain greet each other with a hug. If they meet someone for the first time, they shake hands. Our friends, from the Emirates Saleh and Ahmad, shake hands with all of us every morning.

Going to an International School helped me learn about different greeting customs.

Reading

A. – In which subjects do you use maps?
– What do you use maps for? Why?

Map Reading

What are maps? Let us draw a very simple map to find out what it is. Take a piece of plain paper. Put your hand on it. Then with a pencil draw around your fingers and thumb. Make sure that you outlined each one carefully. Remove your hand from the paper. Mark your finger nails and knuckles. Now you have a "map" of your hand.

There are different kinds of maps: like the world map, city map, road map, street and house maps. We use directions on a map to show us places. The main directions are east, west, north and south. A compass is used to see the directions.

Maps also show size, climate and physical features such as rivers, mountains and deserts of a country. Signs or symbols are used to show things on a map. Symbols replace words by pictures to make the map easier to understand. These symbols are shown in a small box called the "key" or "legend" given on the side of a map.

Now, let's look at the map of our Country Afghanistan. What does it tell us? It shows that it is located at the heart of Asia. It has lots of mountains and two famous rivers "Amu and Helmand". The region is important because it has large reserves of mines, oil and natural gas.

  - c. Direction.

One of my happiest memories is of my secondary school day in UK. I was fourteen years old when my family moved to UK. I liked life in the United Kingdom and got used to it easily. However, I was always proud of living in my own country. One day, the school took us on a field trip to the museum. The museum was full of interesting things to see. I listened carefully to what the teacher had to say about the museum. Our teacher told us that the flag of every county in the world hangs in this hall. Hurriedly my eyes searched for the Afghan flag. I felt proud of my national flag. My teacher and classmates were touched by my patriotism. I wanted to get home and tell my family about the museum. We spent the rest of the day telling everyone how wonderful it was to visit the museum and interesting places. How nice is for a child to love his country and be proud of it. It was a memorable day indeed.

It was 4:30 p.m. in the evening when Rena Taher came home from work. She walked into the living room and looked at her three children. The children are 14, 12 and 9 years old. They were watching TV.

The living room was a mess. There were empty glasses and dirty socks on the floor. There were cookies on the sofa. Games and toys were everywhere. Rena was angry.

"This place is a mess!" she told her children. "I can't work all day and then do housework all evening! I'm not going to do housework!" And so, Rena didn't do housework. She didn't clean. She didn't wash dishes. She didn't wash clothes. Every evening she sat on the sofa and watched TV. After two weeks, every plate, fork, and glass in the house was dirty. All the children's clothes were dirty, too. Every garbage can was full. The house was a mess.

Then, one day Rena came home from work and got a big surprise. The kitchen was clean. The children had cleaned the kitchen! The next day, the living room was cleaned, and the children were washing their clothes.

Rena told her children. "Ok, I'll do housework again. But you have to help me." Now Rena and her three children do the housework together. Then they all sit on the sofa and watch TV.
