Dedication

First and foremost, I would like to delicately dedicated this book to all my contemporary students at high school level and University level. I desired to assist with the accumulation of distinctions in your studies during this lockdown period. I humbly dedicate this book to all learners who were depressed and frustrated by this lockdown not knowing how to excell in education. It is upon my deepest compassion to take you to the exquisite destination that you would enjoy being at. I also documented this initiative to silent dreamers of distinctions. To all those who desired to get distinctions during lockdown but perplexed and frustrated by lockdown. To all millennials students who didn't had the strategies and skills of how to get distinctions. To all learners who didn't believed in themselves that they can also get distinctions. To those who were victims of failure in their studies. By this you have found your best friend who will improve your academic life for the betterment.
