The message of Minister of Education
“Read by the name of Allah”

We express our gratitude to Almighty Allah who bestowed upon us life and the ability to read and write and we send endless salutation to Hazrat Muhammad (PBUP) whose !“first divine message from Almighty Allah is “Read

As it is obvious, the year of 1397 was named as “Education Year”. Therefore, Afghanistan education system will witness many fundamental quality changes in its different spheres. Teachers, students, curriculum/textbooks, schools, administrations and Parents’ Councils are the six basic elements of Afghanistan education which play an important role in expanding and developing of education of a country. At such a fateful moment, the leadership and the entire family of Afghanistan Education is committed to create fundamental changes in the development and expansion of the current .education system in Afghanistan

Thus, reforming and developing of the educational curriculum is one the key priorities of Ministry of Education (MoE). In this regard, improvement in quality, content and the process of distributing of textbooks to schools, Madrasas, and all government and private educational centers is one of the topmost priorities of MoE. We believe that without having quality curriculum and textbooks, we will not be able to achieve the .sustainable development goals with regard to education in our country

To achieve the mentioned goals and an efficient education system, we kindly request our dedicated teachers and committed school administrators who are the educators of the future generation across the country to make endless efforts to support the active learning process using the textbooks and do their best to nurture the future generation to become informed and educated citizens who are critical thinkers and have the religious and national values. Teachers should begin their lessons every day with a sense of accountability and renewed commitment in order for their students to grow into civil, responsible and effective citizens, and serve as the architects of Afghanistan’s .future development

Furthermore, I kindly request our motivated students who are the country’s future valuable assets that they should not neglect the opportunities provided to them and respectfully utilize the teaching and learning process using the scientific curiosity and .benefit immensely from the knowledge of their teachers

Last but not least, I highly appreciate the endless efforts of educational experts, educationists, and technical partners in curriculum development that actively worked day and night to develop this textbook. I wish them success from Almighty Allah in .their noble efforts

I wish we achieve a well-developed education system of high standard and an .Afghanistan with free, informed and prosperous citizens

UNIT ONE

WATER

AT THE END OF THIS UNIT, STUDENTS WILL BE ABLE TO:

- talk/discuss about benefits of drinking water.
- know the meaning of new words and use them in sentences.
- recall grammatical points from previous grades.
- Improve their reading skill by reading a topic about water.
- learn grammatical structures such as; helping and main verbs.

UNIT 1

LESSON 1

DISCUSSION:

1. Discuss the following questions with your classmates.

- What percentage of our bodyweight is water?
- Do people think that water is only needed when they feel thirsty?
- What will happen, if there is lack of water?
- What will happen, if there is shortage of water in our body?

2. Now, look at the picture below and discuss these questions about water with your partner.

- Describe the water cycle.
- How do you say  $\frac{1}{5}$  and  $\frac{4}{5}$  in English?
- What is the difference between fresh water and salty water?
- What is water used for?
- What are some of the problems that people and countries have with water?

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

- 1) Practice a conversation about lesson 1 with your partner.
- 2) Your classmates will read the following conversation in pairs. Listen to your classmates and then practice saying it.

|               | A  | B                      | C   |
|---------------|---|-------------------------------|--|
| Akbar: | Omar, are you good at fractions?                                |                               |  |
| Omar:  | Not bad. Why?   |                               |  |
| Akbar: | Well, what's half a half ?                               | What's half a quarter? | What do you get if you subtract two-fifth from one? |
| Omar:  | A quarter.  | An Eighth              | Three-fifths.                                       |
| Akbar: | Ok. So what do you get if you add a half and a quarter ? | a half and an eighth?  | three-fifths and one-fifth?                         |
| Omar:  | Three-quarters.   | Five-eighths.          |  |
| Akbar: | And how do you express three-quarters as a percentage?   | five-eighths           | four-fifths.  |
| Omar:  | 75%. Akbar are you asking me or testing me?                     | 62,5%                         | 80%  |
| Akbar: | Look, don't worry! You're doing well!                           |                               |  |

- 3) Make more conversations like the one in 2 above, but this time use the words in columns B, and C.

UNIT 1

LESSON 3

ASKING QUESTIONS

GRAMMAR

Many questions in English need a HELPING VERB + a MAIN VERB

|                |                     |                             |                  |                    |
|----------------|---------------------|-----------------------------|------------------|--------------------|
|                | HELPING VERB |                             | MAIN VERB |                    |
| How much water | Do                  | peoplemost of the world | drink?           | by water?here? |
|                | Is                  |                             | covered          |                    |
| How long       | has                 | he                          | worked           |                    |

HELPING VERBS

- A. Show passive or active,
- B. Show the tense,
- C. Sometimes change with different subjects.

MAIN VERBS

describe the action

BE verbs can also be a MAIN VERB:

|                                      |  |  |
|--------------------------------------|--|--|
| WhereWhatHowWhyWhere | MAIN VERBamisarewaswere | I?your name?you?he homesick?his possessions? |
|--------------------------------------|--|--|

But BE needs a HELPING VERB in the future and perfect tenses, For example:

|               |   |                     |   |                  |
|---------------|---|---------------------|---|------------------|
| WhenWhere | HELPING VERBwillhashad | youheHekmat | MAIN VERBbebeen?been | here?before? |
|---------------|---|---------------------|---|------------------|

GRAMMAR

DO and HAVE can also be main verbs. They are HELPING VERBS in questions:

3

What
What
What
What
How much water
What kinds of tools

HELPING VERBS

does do did has does do have a researcher surgeons

Ibn Battuta

Underline the helping verb, and circle the main verb from each question. Remember some questions have only main verbs.

- 1- How does underground water move?
- 2- Why are some medicines prescribed by doctors?
- 3- Where is most of the world's fresh water?
- 4- What are the main uses of fresh water?
- 5- For which purposes do we use water?
- 6- Did Hekmat do his homework?
- 7- When was the thief arrested?
- 8- Why are students called to the principal's office?
- 9- What did the teacher tell to the students?
- 10- When were your last examinations?
- 11- Where was traffic police during the accident?
- 12- Did you see the accident yourself?

LESSON 4

READING

Water

Nearly three-quarters of the world is covered by water. The Pacific Ocean has a larger surface area than all the dry land on earth. Unfortunately, this water itself is no good for drinking. It is too salty. However, the water that is evaporated from it by the heat of the sun is not too salty. Tiny drops of fresh water mix with the air and sometimes become clouds in the sky. If the water in the clouds grows too heavy, it falls to earth again. About four-fifth goes directly back into the sea. But if the rain falls on the land, the fresh water can be used by the living things there. Most of it, however, either returns to the sea in rivers or disappears underground.

There are several different sources of drinking water. In some areas, dams prevent rivers from returning rainwater to the sea. Reservoirs are formed to provide drinking water all year round. In other places, rainwater drains through the earth's surface and collects in lakes or rivers underneath.

Some water under the Sahara Desert in North Africa has lain there for 25, 000 years. Other underground water does not lie in one place but moves slowly downhill over hard rock. Water like this is used by people at cases, wells and bore holes all over the world. However, the largest source of fresh water has never been used at all. About 90% of all fresh water in the world is in Antarctica. It is unusable because it is remote and is in the form of ice and snow.

When the word water is mentioned, nearly everybody first thinks of water for drinking. But actually, in some countries, people drink only a small percentage of the water they use. In the UK, for example, each person uses an average of about 180 liters of water per day. Of that, only about 3% is used for cooking and drinking. People use most of the rest for washing dishes, clothes and themselves and in the toilet. In industries, water is used for a variety of purposes. It takes 1 liter of water to make 2 kilos of bread. It is used in the producing of electricity and at atomic power stations. Of course it is also used world-wide in the cultivation and irrigation of crops. So water now has a variety of uses. As the population of the world grows, the demand for water will increase too. It may become even more precious than it is today.

READING

Read the following statements about the passage. Put T (True) or F (False) and the line number. Write out the correct statement if you put F.

- |       | T or F?           | Line(s)           |   |

REVISION

ASKING MORE QUESTIONS

1 Yes/No Questions

If you want a Yes ... or a No ... answer, start your questions with a HELPING VERB like

Are ....? Did ....? Have ....? Is ....? Were .... etc.

Look at these examples:

QUESTION

Does the Pacific ocean have a large surface area?

Is the evaporated water too salty to drink?

HELPING

ANSWER

Yes, it does

No, it is not

THE VERB IN THE ANSWER is (nearly always) the same as the HELPING VERB in the question.

2 Questions with Prepositions at the end.

Some questions with what ....? Where...? , etc... end with prepositions. Look at these examples

QUESTIONS

What is nearly three quarters of the world covered by?

What is this water good for **?

PERPOSITION

ANSWERS

Water

Drinking.

Subject Questions

When the answer is the subject, NO EXTRA HELPING VERB is needed.

Look at the examples:

Statements

|                   |   |
|-------------------|---|
| The Pacific Ocean | has larger surface than all the dry land on earth.      |

LESSON 6

Revision

A. Read the following passage about Hekmat's Private School silently.

Private School

|   |   |   |
|---|---|---|
| PRIVATESCHOOL | Private school education is a new phenomenon in our country. The Ministry of Education formulated laws and regulations to provide guideline for private schools. As there is a fairly good competition among private schools, the owners of these schools provide more facilities to students. Some of them have worked hard to get good reputation and become more popular among people.  | PRIVATESCHOOL |
|   | My friend Hekmat also established a private school in the city. Before establishing the school, he calculated all the expenditures carefully. Now the school has been built and it has a wonderful building. Its classrooms are very spacious and there is a big library for students. As the school was established according to the private school regulations, the Ministry of Education issued a license for Hekmat. The curriculum of the school is progressive and the Ministry is in agreement with it. |   |
|   | While the teachers of the school work hard and attend their classes regularly, there are a lot of students taking interest in the school. So far, the school has graduated a lot of students. Last week there was a great annual meeting in Hekmat's School. The people of the area are grateful to Hekmat.  |   |

B. Read the following questions about private schools and write the short answers. Remember to use the helping verbs used in the questions.

1. Did Hekmat establish a private school?
2. Was there an annual meeting in Hekmat's school last week?
3. Is there a big library in the school?
4. Are the class-rooms of the school built spacious?
5. Do the teachers attend their classes regularly?
6. Have some of the schools become more popular?
7. Have some of the schools worked hard to get good reputation?
8. Have the school hired more qualified teachers?
9. Are there more facilities in private schools?
10. Did the government formulate any laws for private schools?
11. Did Hekmat get any permission or license from the Ministry of Education for his school?
12. Was Hekmat's school established according to the rules and laws of the country?
13. Were there a lot of students in Hekmat's school?
14. Had Hekmat calculated the expenditures before establishing the school?
15. Has the school graduated a lot of students so far?
16. Should we be grateful to Hekmat for his services in the field of education?

Unit two

CONSERVATION

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

- talk/discuss about conservation.
- learn the usage of past perfect passive.
- read the topic about (CONSERVATION –AN-URGENT NEED)
- know the new words and use them in sentences.

UNIT 2

LESSON 1

CONSERVATION

Discussion:

Discuss about conservation with your teacher and your classmates, then try to answer the following questions:

- a. What does conservation mean?
- b. Is conservation more important nowadays than it used to be? Why?
- c. Can you think of any animals or plants which are endangered?

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

1. Practice the conversation at column A below:

|            | A   | B                    | C                              |
|------------|--|-----------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Policeman: | You know the reason of dying these animals, how did they die?  | car crash?                  | letter arrive?                        |
| Warden:    | Yes, they were killed by poachers.   | driven... a child.          | sent...fax.                           |
| Policeman: | Poachers?  | a child?                    | By fax?                               |
| Warden:    | Yes. Men who hunt without permission.You saw some men driving away as Policemen arrived, didn't you? | someone under seventeen.    | an electronic machine.                |
| Policeman: | Yes, I did.  | some children running away. | the letter coming out of the machine. |

2. Make more conversation, but this time use the words in columns B and C.

GRAMMAR

THE PAST PERFECT PASSIVE

Look at this sentence, it uses the passive with had.

Poachers had killed this deer before we arrived there (active)

This deer had been killed by poachers before we arrived there. (passive)

The tense is called the past perfect passive and it is made like this:

had been + past participle

Tag questions

A. Do you remember these questions?

You come from this area, don't you?

Yes, I do.
I'm from Paktika

It costs a lot, doesn't it?

Yes, it does. It's very expensive.

Remember: We ask questions like these when we think the answer will be Yes.

The question word comes right at the end.

You have to know that the tense is present simple and you have to know that questions in the present simple tense are asked with do and does.

You come from this area, don't you?

Yes, I do.

B. Make some more questions (and answers) like the ones above. Use these sentences.

1. You study English.
2. He comes from Kabul.
3. They sit at the front of the class.

A. Now look at this question:

You saw some men driving away as you arrived, didn't you?

Yes, I did.

This question is similar to those in box 1. But it is in the simple past tense.

Because of this, it uses did at the end.

The answer (can be Yes or No) also contains did.

B. Now make some questions and answers for these statements. Use the simple past tense.

1. You went to perform Haj last year.
2. You saw Frishta yesterday.
3. They knew my father.
4. You won the football cup.
5. You fell off your bike.
6. They built that house.
7. We finished this work.

GRAMMAR

A. Look at these situations and then write a sentence about each one. The sentence must contain had been plus the past participle. The first one is an example.

Answers

1. You went to a bakery to buy some bread. However, there was no bread. What had happened to it? (sell).
2. Your car was very dirty when you left it in the car park. When you came back after shopping, it was like new. What had happened to it? (clean).
3. You left your house this morning and you saw a dead cat in the road. What had happened to it? (kill).
4. When you went to school yesterday morning, there was a hole in the road. When you returned after school, it wasn't there. What happened to it? (mend).
5. When the headmaster left the school at 1:30.p.m, all the lights were on. When he returned at 7:00 a.m. there were no lights on. What had happened to it? (switch off).

It had been sold.

CONSERVATION - AN URGENT NEED

Millions of Animal and Plant Species Face Extinction

Scientists still do not know exactly how many animals and plants species exist on our planet. They guess that there may be between 5 million and 30 million. Only 1.7 million of them have been identified and described.

In January 1989, the director of a famous botanical garden in the U.S.A predicted that during the next thirty years man will cause an extinction of an average of 100 animal and plant species every day. This is a yearly average of about 36, 500 species. If extinctions continue at this rate, there may be almost no animals or plants on this planet by the year 2200 AD!

How Could this Happen?

There are several reasons for this. One thing is that man often hunts and fishes too efficiently nowadays. For example, fishermen hunt whales from “factory ships”. And hunters of elephants and rhinoceroses have even used helicopters and machine – guns. As a result, these animals are all in danger of disappearing.

Another reason is pollution of the environment. Animals need a clean environment but we have been polluting the rivers, seas and land for over 150 years.

However, the main cause of these extinctions is deforestation in the tropics. Tropical forests cover only 7% of the earth’s surface, but they are the home of between 50% and 80% of the earth’s species. Many tropical countries are cutting down their forests very quickly. They are doing this in order to create more land for agriculture.

UNIT 2

LESSON 4

They also need the wood for fuel and for building. However, they are killing trees and plants, and at the same time destroying the homes of many animals. This is a big problem in South America, in parts of Africa and in some Asian countries, such as the Philippines.

Sometimes, man means to do something good but he damages his environment by mistake. An example of this comes from South America. There used to be a bird which was found in only one place in the world – near a lake in Guatemala. One day, scientists decided to introduce a new species of fish into the lake as food for humans. The new fish ate the birds' food sources and by 1987 these birds had all been made extinct.

It's not just the Elephants!

Most people know that elephants, tigers and rhinoceroses are endangered.

However, millions of small and little-known species are also threatened with extinction. Insects and plants are especially vulnerable as their forest homes are destroyed, we must not forget that each of these species depends on many others for its survival.

When one disappears, others may lose an important source of food. Moreover, man can learn from plants and insects and use them to improve his own life on this planet. Wild plants, for example, contain substances that can be used to make medicines as well as natural fertilizers and pesticides.

Is There a Solution?

What can be done about the problem? We cannot re-introduce the species which have already disappeared. However, it may not be too late to start protecting some of the creatures and plants which are still with us but which are endangered. All over the world, conservation is an urgent need.

READING

Read the following statements about the passage. Put T (True) or F (False) and the line number. Write out a correct statement if you put F.

LESSON 6

TAG QUESTION

Remember these Questions which we ask when we expect the answer to be Yes:

__ You knocked at the door, didn't you?

__ No, I didn't.

__ He broke his wrist, didn't he?

__ Yes, he did.

This is how we form them:

|      |           |        |       |
|------|-----------|--------|-------|
| I    |           |        | I?    |
| You  |           |        | you?  |
| We   |           |        | we?   |
| They | ran fast, | didn't | they? |
| He   |           |        | he?   |
| She  |           |        | she?  |
| It   |           |        | it?   |

HAD BEEN DONE

Remember the past perfect passive:

By 1987, these birds had all been made extinct.

This is how we form them:

|      |     |      |       |
|------|-----|------|-------|
| I    |     |      |       |
| You  |     |      |       |
| We   |     |      |       |
| They | had | been | seen. |
| He   |     |      |       |
| She  |     |      |       |
| It   |     |      |       |

HAVE BEEN DOING AND HAVE DONE

A. Now look at this sentence from the reading passage:

We have been polluting the rivers, seas and land for over 150 years.

B. Do you remember the difference between 'has been doing' and 'has done'?

He has been doing his homework for two hours.

(Here the time is the most important thing.)

He has done five exercises.

(Here the number of things done in that time is the most important thing.)

Revision

Make two sentences for each situation shown below. One sentence should contain has/ have been +v...ing. The other sentence should contain has/have +past participle. The first one is done for you.

A. Tamim turned on the TV two hours ago. He is watching the third program now.

1. He has been watching TV for two hours.

2. He has watched three programs.

B. You are learning English. You started nine years ago. You are using your ninth English book.

1. You

C. This poacher is shooting a deer. He started shooting elephants five years ago. This is his one -hundredth elephant.

1. He

UNIT 2

LESSON 6

D. The journey from Kabul to Mazar-e-Sharif is 440 km. Omer started driving one hour ago. He has just arrived in Parwan.

1. He

Unit Three

TRANSPORTATION

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

- talk/discuss about aviation and its history.
- know the meaning of new words and use them in sentences.
- comprehensively read a topic.
- use the grammatical structure (past continuous tense) in sentences.

UNIT 3

LESSON 1

TRANSPORTATION

Getting from one place to another

DISCUSSION

- A. Discuss about aviation and history of transportation with your teacher and answer the following questions.
1. How long did men dream of flying in the air?
  2. Where was the first bird shaped flying device made?
  3. When did the first commercial flight take place?
  4. What was the biggest commercial aircraft until 2005?
  5. How old is Ariana Afghan Airline?
  6. How many private airlines are there in Afghanistan?
- B. Finally, discuss the general questions about traveling around Afghanistan with your classmates. Answer the below questions.
1. What different ways are there to travel around Afghanistan?
  2. What are the advantages and disadvantages of air travel?
  3. What do you know about your national airline?

For example:

When was the airline started?

How many domestic destinations does it have?

How many planes does it have?

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

1. Practice the conversation of column A:

|             | A   | B                                   | C   |

C. Look at these questions from Unit 2 again:

You come from this area, don't you?

Yes, I do.
I'm from Paktika

It costs a lot, doesn't it?

Yes it does. It's very expensive.

Remember: We ask questions like these when we think the answer will be Yes.

The word not comes near the end of the question:

..... don't you?
..... doesn't it?

D. Make some more questions (and answers) like the ones above. Use these sentences.

4. You like banana.
5. He comes from Herat.
6. They speak Pashto.

C. Now look at this question:

You don't come from Iran, do you?

No, I don't.
I'm from Afghanistan.

It doesn't take long by car, does it?

No, it doesn't.

We ask questions like this when we think the answer will be No.

The word not comes near the beginning of the question.

You don't come from Afghanistan, do you?

It doesn't take long by car, does it?

D. Now make some questions and answers for the above pictures.

GRAMMAR

The Past Continuous Tense

Do you remember this sentence?

I was flying to Herat when I met a friend from Paktika.

This is the past continuous tense.

We use it to show that something began before the time mentioned and continued after that time. So he was flying (he was in the plane) when he met his friend and he was still flying (he was still in the plane) after he met his friend.

Look at the time line:

I was flying to Herat.

I met a friend.

Here are some more examples:

At nine o' clock I was watching television.

They were watching television when the phone rang.

UNIT 3

LESSON 3

GRAMMAR

Make questions and answers using the given words. The first one is done for you.

1. ... live in an apartment .....?
(a) You don't live in an apartment, do you?

UNIT 3

LESSON 4

LONG-DISTANCE TRANSPORT

Travelers who want to take a trip to distant cities or countries frequently have to decide whether they would prefer to travel by land, sea or air. There are different means of transportation such as: cars, ships and airplanes. Hardly anyone can enjoy sitting in a train for more than few hours. Train compartments soon get restricted and stuffy.

It is almost impossible to take your mind off the journey. Reading is only partial solution, for the droning rhythm of the wheels clicking on the rails soon lulls you to sleep. During the day, sleep comes in snatches. At night, when you really wish to go to sleep, it will be difficult for you to do so.

Long car journeys have also difficulties; it is very hard for you to read anything. However, traveling at motorway is fairly safe and you can drive at a high speed. But when you use highways and side roads, you are facing a lot of problems, because the greater part of your trip is spent on narrow, bumpy roads which are crowded with traffic.

Traveling by ships is relatively good and it has variety of comforts, you can stretch your legs on the spacious decks, play games, swim, meet interesting people and enjoy good food when the sea is calm and the weather is pleasant. If it is not, and you are likely to get sea-sick, no form of transport or means of travel could be worse than ships. Another problem of sea journey is that it takes a long time to arrive at destination.

Nonetheless, if you take your trip by airplanes, you will enjoy it more than any other means of transportation.

Traveling at a high of 30, 000 feet, far above the clouds and at over 500 miles an hour is an exhilarating experience. You do not have to devise ways of taking your mind off the journey, for an airplane gets you to your destination rapidly. For a few hours, you settle back in a deep armchair to enjoy the flight.

An airplane offers you an unusual and breathtaking view of the world. You soar effortlessly over high mountains and deep valleys. If landscape is hidden from view, you can enjoy the extraordinary sight of unbroken cloud plains that stretch out for miles before you, while the sun shines brilliantly in a clear sky. The journey is so smooth that there is nothing to prevent you from reading or sleeping. You will arrive at your destination fresh and relaxed. You will not have to stand the next few days recovering from a long and difficult journey.

Read the above information again and answer the following questions.

1. Why is sleeping difficult in train?
2. What are the difficulties in long car journeys?
3. What are the facilities and problems of traveling by ships?
4. Which transportation is the most enjoyable? Why?

Remember these questions which we ask when we think the answer will be No.

You don't feel like flying, do you?

No, I don't.

He doesn't feel well, does he?

Yes, he does.

Here is how we form them: →

Remember we do not usually write questions like these. We only say them.

LESSON 6

THE BROKEN WINDOW

Read the situation below with your teacher and friends.

THE SITUATION

It is 7:30 in the morning and the school is just starting for the day.

The window in the head teacher's office is broken and a ball has been found inside the office.

The caretaker says that the window was O.K at 2:30 yesterday afternoon but it was broken by 3:00 p.m.

You and your friend were in the school at 5:00 p.m. after school had finished. (The caretaker saw you with a ball in the playground.)

The head teacher thinks you broke the window.

DID YOU BREAK IT?

Together with a friend, work out the answers to the questions below.

Then the class will ask you questions separately to find out if you tell the same stories. If your stories are different, they will know that you are not telling the truth and that you probably broke the window.

QUESTIONS

1. Why were you and your friend in the playground at 2:45 p.m. yesterday?
2. What were you doing with the ball?
3. Where were you going when the caretaker saw you?
4. What were you talking about?
5. What were you wearing?
6. What was your friend wearing?
7. What was the weather like?
8. When did you leave the school?

Unit Four

R amadan

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

- describe Ramadan to a foreigner.
- talk/discuss about Ramadan month.
- know the new words and use them in sentences.
- read a topic about the Holy Month of Ramadan to improve their reading skill .
- use grammatical structures such as; tag questions in the present and past tenses.

LESSON 1

RAMADAN

Discussion:

If you had to explain Ramadan to a foreigner, how would you do it? Discuss about it in your class.

- A. Answer the following questions after you have discussed about Ramadan in your class:
1. What happens after sunset?
  2. What does fasting help Muslims to remember?
  3. What is the name of the big celebration at the end of Ramadan?
- B. Finally, what else do you think a foreigner might want to know about Ramadan?

THE HOLY MONTH OF RAMADAN

Islam is based on five tenets. These are called The five pillars of Islam. The first tenet is that there is no God but Allah and that Muhammad (peace be upon him) is his Messenger. The second is that a Muslim must pray five times a day at certain times, and the third is the fasting of Ramadan. The fourth one is that a Muslim must give a percentage of his/her savings to the poor. The last one is that all Muslims who are able should perform Hajj (Pilgrimage) at least once in their life.

Ramadan is the ninth month in the Islamic calendar. All adult Muslims must fast during the daylight hours. They are not allowed to eat or drink between dawn and sunset for the whole month. Fasting strengthens a person by increasing his/her self-control. Fasting also helps a Muslim to remember Allah and his obedience. During Ramadan, the soreness of hunger is shared by everyone. In this way, everyone is equal in front of Allah.

Some people (children for example) are excused from fasting. Some may be too old or too ill. Others are the people, who are on journeys and women who are expecting and in monthly period, or find it difficult to nurse their babies. Otherwise, all those who are able must complete their fast later.

Ramadan customs are very special. Many Muslims prefer to change working hours so that they can focus on the Islamic duties of the Holy Month. At sunset, the Imam announces and people break their fast with dates and water. Then, they go to the mosque for the sunset prayers (Maghrib). Also the exact time of sunset is very important.

There is a special night known as "LailatulQadr". No one knows exactly which night it is, but is definitely one of the last odd ten nights of the month. Around this time, Muslims try to stay awake all night and perform special prayers (nafl and missed prayers).

Immediately after the last day of Ramadan, there is a celebration called Eid-Al-Fitr. Muslims all over the world celebrate this holiday. During Eid, Muslims wear new clothes. Families enjoy themselves with friends and relatives. They thank Allah for His great blessings in revealing the Holy Qur'an during the Holy Month of Ramadan.

REVISION

ARTICLES

What does the article a or an mean?

The noun after the article a or an is:

1. Singular, e. g., a bus    a porter an article (so we never write or say a buses a porters)
2. One of several or many, e. g., a porter means one of several porters, and it is not important which one you use.

We cannot use a or an with nouns like water, oil, sugar etc, because they do not usually have a plural form.

What does the article the mean?

The noun after the article the is:

1. Singular or plural, e. g., the porter, the bags
2. Special for some reasons. Here are some examples:
  - a. He got on a bus. He had to stand because the bus was full.
  - b. The bus stopped at the terminal.*
  - c. He joined the queue at the check-in counter.
  - d. You won't be able to board the plane without standing in queue.
  - e. The sun rises in the east.*
  - f. This is the last sentence.

Why are the nouns in these sentences special?

Write a, an, the or nothing in the blanks below.

Scrambled Eggs

To make scrambled eggs for one person, you need two eggs and some milk. First, you break _____ eggs into _____ pan and beat them with _____ wooden spoon. Then you pour _____ milk into _____ pan. You can also add _____ salt and _____ pepper if you wish. Next, you put _____ into pan onto _____ cooker and heat _____ eggs and milk slowly. You must stir _____ mixture with _____ wooden spoon as it cooks. When _____ scrambled eggs are ready, serve them on _____ warm plate with _____ piece of _____ bread and _____ butter.

UNIT FIVE

EARTH & ITS NEIGHBORS

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

- talk/discuss about Earth and its neighbors.
- learn how to use the simple present tense in (active and passive).
- read a topic about Earth Planet to improve their reading skill.
- know the new words and use them in sentences.

EARTH AND ITS NEIGHBORS

Your teacher will give you information about Earth and its Neighbors, listen to him/her carefully.

1. Answer the following questions as you discussed.
  - a. What is the different between the lights of stars and planets?
  - b. What is a galaxy?
2. Try to find answers for these questions.
  - a. Does the moon reflect light?
  - b. What does a satellite do?
  - c. Is the sun a star?
  - d. Does a star radiate or reflect light?
  - e. Why are stars not as bright as the moon?
  - f. Are there billions of stars in our galaxy?
  - g. How many galaxies are there in the universe?
  - h. Can we see the other galaxies?
3. Finally, discuss this question with your teacher:
Do you think that life exists on other planets?

GALAXIES

There are billions of stars in our galaxy.

There are millions of galaxies in the universe.

1 billion = 1,000,000,000

1 million = 1,000,000

- Make more conversation like the one above, but this time use the words in the columns B and C.

Conversation

A. Answer these questions. Write short answers where possible.

The first one is an example:

1. Do planets radiate their own light?

No, they don't.

2. Does the moon reflect light?

3. What does a satellite do?

4. Is the sun a star?

5. Does a star reflect or radiate light?

6. Why are stars not as bright as the moon?

7. Are there billions of stars in our galaxy?

8. How many galaxies are there in the universe?

B. Complete these two sentences.

1. A: Do planets radiate light?

B: No, _____.

A: Does a planet reflect light?

B: ____, _____.

2. A: Are there billions of stars in our galaxy?

B: Yes, _____.

A: Is there only one galaxy in the universe?

B: ____, _____.

There are millions.

UNIT 5

LESSON 3

GRAMMAR

REVISING THE PRESENT SIMPLE TENSE

1

Remember that we use this tense to describe facts and regular events.

It is used a lot in science.

In science, it is often used in the passive.

The passive is used when the action is important, not the people.

ACTIVE

Scientists use active tense for facts.

PASSIVE

Passive tense is used by scientists.

2

In questions, negatives and short answers, we use helping verbs.

ACTIVE

Do scientists use this tense for facts? Yes, they do.

PASSIVE

Is this tense used by scientists? Yes, it is.

3

Sometimes we ask questions to check the information.

We make these questions by adding helping verbs to the end of our sentence.

ACTIVE

*Planets reflect light, don't they?
Yes, they do.
A planet doesn't radiate light, does it?
No, it doesn't.*

PASSIVE

*Light is reflected by planets, isn't it?
Yes, it is.
Light isn't radiated by planets, is it?
No, it isn't.*

A. In the following sentences, the bold words (e.g. a planet) are singular. Rewrite the sentences making the bold words plural (e.g., planets). Change the verb if necessary.

1. A planet reflects light.
2. A star radiates light.
3. A satellite does not orbit a star.
4. There is a planet in the Solar System.
5. Does a planet orbit a star?

B. Write the following sentences again; Put the verbs into the correct form.

1. I (be) at school.
2. I (be) interested in stars..
3. Our sun (be) a star.
4. Galaxies (be) large groups of stars.
5. We (be) not able to see other galaxies?

C. Make the following sentences negative.

1. A planet is a star.
2. A planet radiates light.
3. Stars reflect light.
4. Venus has a moon.
5. There is a planet between Earth and Mars.

UNIT 5

LESSON 3

D. Make these sentences passive.

1. Planets reflect light.
2. Satellites orbit planets.
3. Stars do not reflect light.
4. Scientists study the universe.
5. Do stars radiate light?

E. Make these sentences into questions. Write tag questions for these statements, then, answer them.

1. Stars reflect light. (No)
2. Stars radiate light. (Yes)
3. Planets radiate light. (No)
4. There is only one star in the Solar System. (Yes)
5. There are people on Venus. (No)

EARTH PLANET

Earth's place in space

The sun has nine planets. The four planets that are the nearest to it, have solid surfaces. Earth is the third of these inner planets. Most of the outer planets are balls of gases. So their surfaces are not solid.

Some Statistics

Earth is about twice as big as Mars. Its diameter is around 12, 700 kilometers. There are approximately 365 days in a year on Earth. That is the time it takes to make a complete orbit of the sun. There are 24 hours in a day. This is the time it takes to spin once around its own axis.

The Atmosphere

Earth has an atmosphere around it. Its gases consist of about 78% nitrogen and 21% oxygen. Some of the other planets have atmosphere. However, their gases are not the same as Earth's. They do not contain water vapor, either.

The Atmosphere

The Earth's axis is not vertical. It is tilted at an angle of about  $23.5^\circ$ . As it goes round the sun, different parts become closer to it. For this reason the Earth has seasons. Summer is in the hemisphere that is nearer to the sun. Winter is in the one that is farther away.

UNIT 5

LESSON 4

Spring and autumn occur between these times. The average temperature is 12°C.

Compared with the size of the Earth, the atmosphere is as thin as an apple skin.

Water

On Earth's surface, water is found in two forms. As solid ice, it is found mostly near the North Pole and South Pole. Elsewhere, it is liquid. We can find fresh water in streams, rivers and most lakes, but the sea water is salty water.

Inside Earth

The Earth's hard surface looks stationary, but it is not. It moves very slowly because the inside of the Earth is very hot. This surface, sometimes called the Earth's crust, lies on rock. But the heat from the centre of the Earth sometimes melts this rock. Thus the crust floats on liquid rock.

Life on Earth

Earth is unique. It is the only known planet that has got life on it. Life cannot exist on any of the other planets in our Solar System. Their atmospheres, temperatures or lack of water make life impossible. This is why we must care for our planet. It is the only place where we can live.

A. Read the following statements about the passage. Put T (True) or F (False) and the line number. Write out a correct statement if you put F in your notebooks.

|   | T or F?              | Line(s)              |
|---|----------------------|----------------------|

12. Climbers often need extra _____ on very high mountains.
13. It is easier to hit a _____ object than a moving one.
14. The sun is over 90 _____ miles away from Earth.

UNIT 5

LESSON 6

If the direct questions include auxiliary verbs such as “do, does, and did”, omit the auxiliary and add “if” instead.

Do you know....? + Does Mars have an atmosphere?

—————→ Do you know if Mars has an atmosphere?

Here are some more examples:

Who knows...? + Does the sun have nine planets?

—————→ Who knows if the sun has nine planets?

Can you tell me...? + Does the Earth spin around its own axis?

—————→ Can you tell me if the Earth spins round its own axis?

Nobody is sure...? + Does life exist anywhere else?

—————→ Nobody is sure if life exists anywhere else?

Make “included questions” from the sentences below.

1. Does life exist on other planets? Do you think?
2. What is the date? Do you know?
3. What is the difference between Solar and Gregorian dates? Can you explain?
4. What does junk food mean? Can you tell me?
5. What are modern houses made of? Tell me.
6. How do CFCs destroy the ozone layer? Do you understand?
7. Where does gold come from? The map helps to explain.
8. Is water still sold by water sellers? Do you know?
9. Are dates grown here? Can you remember?

Unit Six

the wonderful of the world the web

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

- talk/discuss about the Internet.
- use present perfect tense.
- Explore the new world on the Internet.
- know the new words and use them in sentences.
- learn more about present perfect tense.

UNIT 6

LESSON 1

The Wonderful World of The Web

DISCUSSION

Discuss these questions with your classmates:

1. Have you ever used a computer at home, at school or at an Internet café?
2. What would you like to use computer and Internet for? Tick (✓) the correct box.

| Some possible uses  | Yes, definitely          | probably not.            |
|---|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| a. To learn ICT (Information and Communications Technology) skills. | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| b. To write your homework or school projects.                       | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| c. To play games.   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| d. To send e-mails.   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| e. To do research.  | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| f. To download music.   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| g. To do online shopping.   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

3. Finally, discuss these general questions about Internet with your partner.

- a. What is internet?
- b. Who was the inventor of internet?
- c. Generally, where can we use internet?

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

1. Pair work: Make conversation from discussion of lesson one, then practice with your partner.
2. Practice the conversation at column A below with your partner.

|       | A   | B                 | C  | D   |
|-------|---|-------------------|--|---|
| Akram | I wanted to learn the internet .                           | Study Mars | build one of the biggest mosques in the country | dig one of the longest canals in the country |
| Aslam | You've certainly done that, but hasn't it been difficult ? | difficult  | expensive                                       | dangerous                                    |
| Akram | Yes, it has.Fortunately I got help.                           |                   |  |   |
| Aslam | Ah, You've had your teacher help ?                         | scientific | enough money                                    | expert                                       |
| Akram | Yes, I have.  |                   |  |   |

3. Make more conversations like the one above, but this time use the words in column B, C and D.

UNIT 6

LESSON 3

Revising the Present Perfect Tense

has/have done or has/have been doing

Pay close attention to this tense. It connects the past with the present.

For example:

I have seen several useful websites since 2009.

(And I am still seeing them)

Forming the Present Perfect Tense

A. has/have + the past participle.

|               |      |       |
|---------------|------|-------|
| I/You/We/They | have | seen. |
| He/She/It     | has  |       |

B. has/have + been + the present participle

|               |      |              |
|---------------|------|--------------|
| I/You/We/They | have | been seeing. |
| He/She/It     | has  |              |

Which one should I use: has/have done or has/have been doing?

A. Remember they can have the same meaning. For Example:

He has lived there for ten years. = He has been living there for ten years.

B. But there can be a difference. Look at these two sentences:

He has been reading for two hours.

(Here the time is the most important thing.)

He has read one hundred pages.

(Here the number of things done in the time is the most important thing.)

Using the Present Perfect Tense with since and for

A. Since with the present perfect tense means from that time:

I have seen several useful websites since 2009.

B. For with the present perfect tense is used for a period of time:

I have been seeing several useful websites for one year.

(Why did we use have been seeing here? Can we use have seen?)

UNIT 6

LESSON 3

Grammar

A. Complete the sentences using verbs like have done or has done.
*The first one is an example.

1. He has eaten all the cakes. (eat)
2. She _____ her mother. (call)
3. They _____ their suitcases. (pack)
4. He _____ since I last saw him. (grow)
5. That factory _____ a million cars. (produce)
6. It _____ along way. (come)

B. Complete the sentences using verbs like has been doing or have been doing. *The first one is an example.

1. He has been eating since he arrived. (eat)
2. They _____ that mosque for two years. (build)
3. She _____ English since 1995. (teach)
4. We _____ to the radio. (listen)
5. I _____ . (sleep)
6. The phone _____ for three minutes. (ring)

Grammar

C. Ask and answer one question about each of the following situations.

Use verbs like has/have done or has/have been doing as necessary.

The instructions tell if you should use since or for in your answer.

The first one is an example.

1. Mrs. Nasreen Ahmad came to the office at 8 o'clock. It is 12 o'clock now.

She is working.

Q. How long has he been working?

A. (for) He has been working for four hours.

2. Hamid arrived in the U.S.A six months ago. He is studying English.

Q. How long

A. (for)

3. Mr. Khalid reads the Kabul times. He first read it in 1990.

Q. How long

A. (since)

4. Wahida and Sabera went to the airport at six o'clock. It is 8 o'clock now.

They are waiting for their flight.

Q. How long

A. (since)

5. We are driving our car. We got into the car at nine o'clock and it is twelve now.

Q. How long

A. (for)

6. Hekmat arrived at the gymnasium twenty minutes ago. He started doing some exercises and he is still doing exercises.

Q. How long

A. (for)

Reading

Explore new worlds on the Internet

Good! You have managed to log on to your Internet Service Provider (ISP), and you have activated the Internet software on your new PC. You have also succeeded in sending e-mails and attachments to all your friends. What next? What else would you like to do with this amazing communications technology?

Through your ISP you now have access to a huge store of information which includes text, graphics, sound and video. This is the Worldwide Web (www), and the information is stored on many millions of websites. Whatever you're interested in, there are sites to discover, and information to download and print out.

Why not start using the Web to learn more about subjects you study at school? There are many different sites to choose from. For example, you'll enjoy visiting www.natioanlgeographic.com for information on anything and everything from African rain forests to Antarctic ice sheets. If you're interested in technology, you'll also love exploring www.howstuffworks.com, with its excellent diagrams and easy-to-understand explanations of everything from satellite dishes to CD players.

The Internet is great when you're planning a trip. You can download and print out travel information, including maps and photos of your destination and vaccinations that you might need. You can then compare flights and prices to find the best deal. Finally, when you're happy with everything, you can pay for it online.

If you want up-to-the-minute sports news, you'll find it on the Internet. Newspaper and TV network websites offer reports about sports events, along with all the latest results. You'll also be amazed at the number of other sports sites. For start, try looking up your favorite team's website.

When you start to use the net; time passes very quickly, so there's something you should remember to do before you begin. Check with whoever pays the bills in your family. Make sure that wrong and impolite sites are not good; you should visit useful websites for getting more useful information and also for your knowledge capacity building.

THE Present Perfect TENSE

A. Remember the present perfect tense:

has/have done

has/have been doing

We have changed thousands of poppy plantations into wheat plantations.

We have been changing thousands of poppy plantations into wheat plantations.

B. Remember how to ask questions, too.

Make questions from the table below:

|          |      |                        |      |   |          |                 |                  |  |
|----------|------|------------------------|------|---|----------|-----------------|------------------|--|
| How long | have | Iyouwethey | been | waiting?playing?flying?driving?paying?swimming?learning?sleeping? | How much | have            | Iyouthey | seen?read?eaten?found?given?repaid?understood?written? |
|          | has  | hesheit        |      | has   |          | hesheit |                  |  |

Remember that we can use this passive form:

has/have been done

when we do not know who did something or when it is not important who did it.

Make sentences from this table:

|                        |      |      |   |
|------------------------|------|------|---|
| IYouWeThey | have | been | repaid.chosen.found.forgotten.hurt.seen.understood.woken. |
| HeSheIt        | has  |      |   |

UNIT 6

LESSON 6

CONJUNCTIONS or CONNECTORS

A. Do you remember the conjunctions or connectors and / but / or from earlier in the course?

We can use them to join two sentences into one:

And joins two sentences which say similar things.

But joins two sentences which say different or opposite things.

Or joins two sentences where there is a choice – another possibility.

B. We can sometimes make sentences with and, but or or shorter.

Tiny drops of fresh water mix with the air. They sometimes become clouds.

First, we can join these two sentences with and:

Tiny drops of fresh water mix with the air and they sometimes become clouds.

Now, we can make this sentence shorter:

Tiny drops of fresh water mix with the air and sometimes become clouds.

Join the following sentences using and or but or or. Make the sentences shorter, if it is possible.

1. Frishta was happy, Maryam was sad.
2. He saw the headmaster. He did not see his secretary.
3. You can drink tea with sugar. You can drink tea without sugar.
4. He is going to fly to the U.S.A. He is going to visit Canada when he is there.
5. Have you been playing football? Have you been playing basket ball?
6. Abdullah did his homework. Akbar played football.
7. Barialai can speak English. His father cannot.

UNIT SEVEN

English Literature

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

- talk/discuss about the biography of English authors.
- use past tense in oral and written sentences.
- read the summary of the novel Great Expectations.
- know the new words and use them in sentences.
- use Past Perfect Tense in oral and written sentences.

UNIT 7

LESSON 1

English Literature

William Shakespeare

Charles Dickens

Listening:

Your teacher will give you information about English authors; listen to him/her carefully.

DISCUSSION:

Try to answer the following questions:

- Name some of Shakespeare's popular books.
- Is a novel fiction or biography?
- Is fiction made up or is it real?

Now discuss these general questions about literature with your teacher:

- What does literature mean?
- Do you know any stories from English literature? Can you tell the class about one?
- Do you know the names of any other English authors?

A Play on the Stage

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

1. Make conversation from discussion of lesson one with your partner, and practice it in front of the class.
2. Practice the conversation in column A.

|           | A   | B                  |
|-----------|---|--------------------|
| Abdullah: | What did Shakespeare do?                               | Dickens     |
| Akbar:    | He wrote plays .                                       | novels      |
| Abdullah: | Did he write novels ?                                  | plays       |
| Akbar:    | No, he didn't. He didn't write short stories , either. | biographies |

|           | A  | B              |
|-----------|--|----------------|
| Abdullah: | Was Shakespeare American?           | Dickens |
| Akbar:    | No, he wasn't. He was English .     | English |
| Abdullah: | Were his books biographies ?        | plays   |
| Akbar:    | No, they weren't. They were plays . | novels  |

3. Make more conversations, but this time use the words in columns B.

UNIT 7

LESSON 3

GRAMMAR

Revising the Past Tense

Do you remember these lines?

The one on the left shows the past. The one on the right shows the present perfect.

What is the difference?

We use the present perfect when ...

1. Something had happened but we do not know exactly when, and
2. Something had happened and it affects the present time:

Everyone has heard of William Shakespeare.

(Do we know when they heard?)

(Do they know about him now?)

We use the past simple when we can give a time or date in the past:

Shakespeare lived about four hundred years ago.

(Do we know when he lived?)

(Is he alive now?)

Remember that verbs can be

Or            regular irregular

e.g.    look _____    looked _____    looked.

e.g.    write _____    wrote _____    written.

GRAMMAR

The past tense can be used in both active and in the passive:

ACTIVE

Dickens wrote novels.

Did Dickens write that play?

Dickens wrote those novels, didn't he?

PASSIVE

Novels were written by Dickens.

Was that play written by Dickens?

Those novels were written by Dickens, weren't they?

Dickens didn't write that play, did he? That play wasn't written by Dickens, was it?

The verb be does not have any helping verbs in the past:

Shakespeare was a poet. Dickens was not a poet.

Were Shakespeare and Dickens writers? Yes, they were.

In if clauses, the past tense does not show past time.

It shows that the idea is unlikely, imagined or impossible.

If Shakespeare lived today, he would use different English.

If Shakespeare were alive today, he would use different English.

If I were you, I would read as many books as possible.

UNIT 7

LESSON 3

Grammar

A. Make questions about these sentences. Do not forget the question mark.

1. Dickens wrote Great Expectations. (When)
2. Abdullah asked Omer about the library. (Why)
3. The stories were rewritten. (How)
4. The interview with Shabnam took place somewhere. (Where)
5. They got help from some countries. (Which countries)
6. Shakespeare wrote a play called The Merchant of Venice. (When)

B. Make these sentences passive.

1. Shakespeare wrote that play.
2. Dickens wrote that novel.
3. The author made up that story.
4. Did Shakespeare write those plays?
5. When did someone write The Merchant of Venice?
6. Shakespeare wrote those poems, didn't he?

C. Write the correct form of the verb in brackets:

1. If Earth (not have) an atmosphere, there would not be any life on it.
2. If Earth's surface (be) not solid, we would not be able to live.
3. If Earth's axis (be) vertical, we would not have any seasons.
4. Habib would see the new books if he (go) to the library.
5. If I (be) you, I would read as much as possible.
6. Dickens books would be different if he (be) alive today.

Reading

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

by Charles Dickens

Introduction:

The novel Great Expectation was written by Charles Dickens, a famous English author. The story took place in England in the nineteenth century. The main character is called Pip. We read about his life from childhood to manhood.

Pip's Childhood

The story begins when Pip was a lonely orphan. He was brought up by his sister. She was very strict and hard with him. His best friend was Joe, his sister's husband. He was kind and warm-hearted. He loved Pip as if he were his own son.

One day, Pip gave something to eat and drink to a prisoner who had escaped from prison. The man was recaptured by soldiers and taken away. But he never forgot Pip's kindness.

Later, Pip was told that he would be given a lot of money. This was so that he could receive a good education in London and become a better person.

Pip had no parents. He was an orphan.

His sister was strict.

Joe was kind and warm-hearted

UNIT 7

LESSON 4

The prisoner had escaped from prison.

In London

In London, Pip studied hard. He received money regularly, but he did not know where or who it came from. He lived in a flat with a young man who had little money but who worked for an insurance agent. They became friends. After some years, Pip was visited by the prisoner whom he had helped as a child. The man has been sent with other convicts to Australia and had become a very wealthy farmer there. In fact, he was the one that Pip's allowance came from. He wanted Pip to have the advantages of education and money although he was not a gentleman himself. Actually, he was still wanted by the police in England.

The Convict's Trial

The End

Pip and his friend decided that London was too dangerous for the wanted man. They thought that Pip should take him abroad. As they attempted to board a ship, he was caught by the police. At his trial in court, he was sentenced to death by judge. Before he could be hanged, he had died in prison. By law, all his money belonged to the government. So Pip had to find a job to support himself. He became a clerk in his friend's office. Years later, he became part owner of the insurance firm. So, he had a successful career as a result of his own efforts and not because of the fortune that he had been promised.

A. Read the following statements about the passage. Put T (True) or F (False) and the line number. Write out the correct statement if you put F.

T - F   Line(s)

1.   The story takes place in England in the eighteen hundred.

---

2.   Pip was a man at the beginning of the story.

---

3.   Pip was Joe's son.

---

4.   A convict paid for Pip's education.

---

5.   The convict was hanged.

---

6.   Pip did not get the promised money after the convict's death.

---

UNIT 7

LESSON 6

The Past Perfect Tense

Our teacher arrived a moment ago.
The boys had arrived before their teacher.

We can think of it like this:

Now read these questions and short replies.
They refer to a time before the conversation.

Question: Had Jamal been in the school library recently?

Short reply: No, he hadn't.

Question: What had happened there?

Short reply: Some boys had arrived.

Remember the active and passive forms:

ACTIVE

After they had sent the man to Australia, he became very rich.

Pip had helped the man, hadn't he?

PASSIVE

After the man had been sent to Australia, he became very rich.

The man had been helped by Pip, hadn't he?

The past perfect tense is often found in reported speech.

Here are some examples:

DIRECT SPEECH

“The stories have been rewritten in easy English”

“Have you been in the school library recently?”

Shakespeare wrote poems and plays.”

“Did Dickens write plays, too?”

REPORTED SPEECH

He said that the stories had been rewritten in easy English.

He asked Akbar if he had been in the school library recently.

He said that Shakespeare had written poems and plays.

He asked if Dickens had written plays, too.

Report what Akbar and Omer said?

Akbar: “Have the stories been written in easy English?”

Omer: “I have not been in the school library recently.”

Akbar: “Shakespeare lived in the sixteenth century”

Omer: “Did Shakespeare write novels?”

Akbar: Dickens did not write plays.”

UNIT 7

LESSON 6

REVISION

A. Write the correct form of the verb in brackets. The first one is an example.

1. After Pip _____ by his sister, he went to London. (bring up)
After Pip had been brought up by his sister, he went to London.
2. After Pip _____ some food to the prisoner, he was recaptured. (give)
_____
3. After the man _____ to Australia, he became wealthy. (go)

UNIT EIGHT

universities in Afghanistan

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

- talk/discuss about the future career of themselves
- learn transitive and intransitive verbs and the using of commas with who, which and that.
- read paragraphs about Universities in Afghanistan.
- know the new words and use them in sentences.
- use some grammatical points such as: using of commas with (who, which and that) in sentences.

UNIT 8

LESSON 1

UNIVERSITIES in Afghanistan

As it seems, you are in the last year of secondary school, now discuss with your partner about yourself and your partner's future career.

A. Try to answer the following questions about your partner as you discussed with him/her.

1. What is your partner's name?
2. What is he/she about to do?
3. What are your partner's favorite subjects?

B. Look at these new words and at the words in the box. Choose the words from the box which you think best explain the new words:

- |                      |                  |
|----------------------|------------------|
| 1. career            | a. Interested in |
| 2. to tell the truth | b. Soon          |
| 3. about to          | c. Continue      |
| 4. keep on           | d. In fact       |
| 5. keen on           | e. Marks         |
| 6. grades            | f. Think about   |
| 7. consider          | g. job           |

C. Finally, discuss these general questions about universities in Afghanistan with your teacher and your classmates:

1. Do you know the names of universities in Afghanistan?
2. Do you need English for all universities in Afghanistan?
3. Would you rather get a job or go to university when you finish school? Why?

What are you going to do when you finish school?

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

1. Practice the conversation in column A with your partner.

|           | A   | B                                       | C   |
|-----------|---|---|---|
| Abdullah: | I'm about to finish school .But to tell you the truth, I'm not very happy.                       | have a holiday                   | have lunch                                     |
| Teacher:  | What a pity! What are you going to do ?   | What...do?                       | What ...eat?                                   |
| Abdullah: | I don't really know.I could go into the family business but I'd rather keep on studying . | fly to Englandworking | have western foodeating Afghan food |
| Teacher:  | Have you thought about going to university ?   | driving to Mazar e Sharif        | eating at a restaurant                         |
| Abdullah: | No. Not really. I don't know enough about it.   |   |   |
| Teacher:  | Well, you should consider getting a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science .                      | visiting Rawza e Sharif          | going to that new Chinese restaurant           |

2. Make more conversations but this time use the words in columns B and C.

UNIT 8

LESSON 3

GRAMMAR

TRANSITIVE & INTRANSITIVE VERBS

Look at the verbs in these two sentences and look at what follows the verbs:

A. He raises his hand.

B. The sun rises.

In A, there is an object (his hand) after the verb.

A verb which can be followed by an object is called a transitive verb.

raise is a transitive verb.

In B, there is no object after the verb.

A verb which cannot be followed by an object is called an intransitive verb.

rise is an intransitive verb.

This is a very important difference between verbs in English because intransitive verbs cannot be used in the passive.

You can say this                      His hand is raised

But

You cannot say this:                      The sun is risen.

* Dictionaries show if a verb is transitive or intransitive, e.g.

(vt)    transitive

(vi)    intransitive

GRAMMAR

Using Commas with WHO, WHICH and THAT

Look at this sentence:

I'll tell you about the universities which you can go to.

In this sentence: The clause which you can go to describes the universities. If you take out the clause which you can go to, the sentence does not have a complete meaning.

X I'll tell you about the universities .X

Now look at this sentence:

A pupil, who is in his last year at school, is discussing her career with...

In this sentence, the clause who is in his last year at school describes the pupil. If you take out the clause who is in his last year at school, the sentence still has a complete meaning.

X A pupil is discussing his career with his teacher. X

*There are commas before and after the clause.

UNIT 8

LESSON 3

GRAMMAR

A. Look at the verbs in this box. Notice that some are transitive (vt) and some are intransitive (vi):

grow (vt)      bring up (vt)      go (vi)      see (vt)      come (vi) construct (vt)      boil (vi) (vt)      eat (vt)      keep on (vi)      pause (vi)

Now look at the sentences below. Make them passive if you can. If you cannot make them passive, write them out again as they are. Remember that intransitive verbs (vi) cannot be used in the passive.

1. A camel ate the grass.
2. Ajaml paused.
3. They grow oranges in Jalalabad and Laghman Provinces.
4. The teacher kept on talking.
5. All the people in the village came to meet the visitor.
6. They go to school at 07:00 every morning.
7. They saw the sun rising on the horizon.
8. Water boils at 100<sup>0</sup> centigrade.
9. They brought up their children abroad.
10. They constructed a bridge over the river.

B. Look at the sentences in the exercise below. Decide if you can take the which clause out and still have a sentence with a complete meaning. If you can take the which clause out, write the sentence again twice. Once without which clause and once with commas around the which clause. If you cannot take the which clause out, just copy the same sentence.

1. Haroon's brother who lives in Herat visited us last week.
2. People who drive badly cause accidents.
3. Tariq who met me at the airport is older/younger than I am.
4. There is no animal which has three legs.
5. Frishta who has been working all day wants to stop.
6. All apples that fall to the ground are dirty.
7. Her house which she bought last year was very expensive.

UNIVERSITIES IN AFGHANISTAN

What are you going to do when you finish school?

Perhaps you would like to get a university degree. Afghanistan has more than twelve public universities and some private ones. Which one do you like to attend? Let's look closely at some of them.

KABUL UNIVERSITY (KU)

Kabul University was established in 1931 during the reign of Mohammad Zahir Shah. One year later, Mohammad Hashim Khan the prime Minister of that time and one of the most respected intellectuals of the country inaugurated the university and opened its door to students from all over the country. Having benefited from partnerships with the governments of France, Germany, Russia and the United States, the university became one of the finest institutions of its kind in Asia, the intellectual heart of the country.

Kabul University is the oldest university in Afghanistan with over 35,000 students, both male and female, and it is also the largest university in our country.

Kabul University offers more than 20 degrees, which has the following faculties:

- The faculty of Law and political science has two departments: Law and Management (Political Science).
- The faculty of science has five departments: Computer Science, Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics and Physics.
- The Faculty of Engineering has four departments: Architecture, Civil, Mechanical, and Electrical Engineering. An estimated 600 students are taking classes there.
- The Faculty of Pharmacy has five departments: Pharmacognosy, Pharmacology, Pharmaceutical Chemistry, Pharmaceutics and Biochemistry and Food Analysis. It has seven functioning laboratories and recently the new curriculum of this faculty has been approved and is being implemented. An estimated 400 students are taking classes there.
- The Faculty of Agriculture and animal husbandry has six departments: Agricultural Economics, Agronomy, Animal Science, Forestry and Natural Resources, Horticulture, and Plant Protection.
- The Faculty of Veterinary Science has five departments: Para clinic, Preclinical, Clinic, Animal Husbandry, and Food Hygiene.
- The Faculty of Journalism of Kabul University has two departments: Radio & Television and Printing Press.

POLYTECHNIC UNIVERSITY OF KABUL (PUK)

Polytechnic University of Kabul is the second largest university of the country where more than 15, 000 students, both male and female are studying.

The Polytechnic University of Kabul (PUK) was established on an area of 60 hectares in December 1963. The university has three faculties with 19 sub-departments, including 11 professional and 8 general subject departments.

The PUK is the basic center of the training of professional engineering cadres in Afghanistan. It has trained more than 4,500 specialists obtaining Bachelors of Science and Masters of Science. The leaders of the most productive organizations in the country have graduated from this university.

One third of the academic staff at the PUK are PhDs, while two thirds hold the degrees of Master of Science (CMsc). Among them, 55% are rendering their services as full-time professors, whereas 45% are working as associate professors.

KABUL EDUCATION UNIVERSITY (KEU)

Kabul Education University (KEU) is the newest university in the country, located in Kabul, the capital of Afghanistan. First, it was established as Kabul Institute of Pedagogy and then in 2003, it was promoted to the level of university and entitled to be called as Kabul Education University. Until 1994 the institute was one of the main teachers' training institutions under the supervision of the Ministry of Education. Now it has 6 faculties, where more than four thousand students both male and female are studying. There are 164 professors who are working very hard to graduate as many scholars as they can.

KABUL MEDICAL UNIVERSITY (KMU)

Kabul Medical University (formerly as Kabul Medical Faculty) is located in Kabul Afghanistan on the campus of Kabul University. The medical institution was initially maintained by collaboration with the Turkish and French sponsors. KMU developed into a single self-autonomous University in 2005. It currently graduates professionals in the fields of Curative Medicine, Pediatric, Stomatology and Nursing. All subjects are taught in national languages but most medical terms are either in Arabic, Greek, English or French. Currently, more than 17 medical institutions are known to exist in Afghanistan but the KMU and Nangarhar Medical institutions are the leading medical institutions in the country.

Read the following statements about the passages. Put T (True) or F (False) and the line number. Write out the correct statement if you put F.

T-F   Line(s)

1.   PUK and Kabul Medical University both teach medicine.
2.   Kabul University accepts male and female students.
3.   Kabul University has around 1602 both male and female students.
4.   Kabul Medical University currently graduates professionals in the fields of curative medicine, pediatric and engineering.
5.   Kabul University offers less than 20 degrees.
6.   Polytechnic University has four faculties with 19 sub-departments, including 8 professional and 6 general subject departments.
7.   Kabul Education University is the oldest university in Afghanistan. First, it was established as Kabul teacher training Institute and then in 2003 it became Kabul Medical University.
8.   The Polytechnic University of Kabul (PUK) was established on an area of 60 hectares in December 1963.
9.   Kabul University was established in 1931. One year later, its door was opened to students, across the country.

LESSON 6

REVISION

Using Commas with who, which and that

Pay close attention to the clauses with who, which or that:

Pupils who come to class late are not allowed in the classroom.
(Without the who clause, the sentence has an unusual meaning.)
The part of the year which is cold is called winter.
(Without the which clause, we do not know which part of the year is meant.)
Try taking out the who and which clauses and see what happens.

*There are no commas before or after who, which or that clauses in the above example.

Now look at the following sentences with who, which or that clauses:

Mrs. Husnia, who comes from India, is an English teacher.
(We can take out the who clause and still understand the sentence.)
Polytechnic University, which was founded in 1963, is one of the largest universities in Afghanistan.*
(We can take out the which clause and still understand the sentence.)
Try taking out the who and which clauses and see what happens.

TAKING OUT WHO, WHICH AND THAT

Remember that we can shorten a passive clause after, who, which or that

PUK is one of the largest universities, founded in 1963.

KU established in 1931, has over 35, 000 students.

Verb - ing OR verb (no ending)

Remember this kind of clause with who, which or that:

|                                    |                  |  |    |          |   |
|------------------------------------|------------------|--|----|----------|---|
| These are followed by verb- |                  | about to is followed by verb (no ending) |    |          |   |
| be keen on                         | playing games    | IWeYouThey                   | am | about to | play football.go to England.watch TV.have a party.make a lot of noise.visit Baghlan.fly to Herat. |
| consider                           | going to England |  |    |          |   |
| keep on                            | watching TV      |  |    |          |   |
| think about                        | having a party   | HeSheIt                          | is |          |   |

A. Shorten the clauses with who, which or that.

1. KU (Kabul University), which was founded in 1931, is the largest university in Afghanistan.
2. Those students, who were sent to India, learned to speak excellent English.
3. The number of students that are accepted by the universities is increased.
4. KPU (Kabul Polytechnic University), which was opened in 1963, is very beautiful.
5. KMU (Kabul Medical University), which is considered the leading center for Curative Medicine, Pediatric, Stomatology and Nursing, offers degrees in most medical sciences.

B. Complete these sentences using a phrase from the box on the right. Add-ing to the verb if necessary.

| Loved                | Held              |
| Was                  | Met               |

While + the Past Continuous Tense

You have seen the past continuous tense before:

Kabul University was graduating thousands of students before 1984.

By 2001, Afghanistan was serving several domestic destinations.

UNIT 9

LESSON 3

GRAMMAR

Now look at this sentence:

While I was visiting a friend in Jalalabad, I went to Amir Shaheed Garden.

The verb was visiting is in the past continuous tense.

It is used here in a while clause

Note the verb in the other clause:

While I was visiting a friend in Jalalabad, I went to Amir Shaheed Garden.

While + Past continuous .....

Past Simple.

We use this to show that

*the pupil went to the Garden in the past and *the visiting began before the garden and continued after it:

Here is another example:

While the king was starting his speech, he recited a verse from the holy Qur'an.

KING GHAZI AMANULLAH KHAN

King Ghazi Amanullah Khan was one of the very famous rulers of Afghanistan. He was the founder of the new modern and independent Afghanistan. Amanullah Khan was crowned the Amir of Afghanistan after the death of his father. Amir Habibullah was assassinated in February 1919. Amanullah Khan wanted Afghanistan to be free and independent in its policies, so he was fiercely against British political control over the country. He wanted to revoke the agreement which gave the British control over Afghanistan's foreign policy. The British resisted this move, and so began the Third Anglo-Afghan War in 1919. After the heroic struggle of the people of Afghanistan, the British were defeated. Eventually, they surrendered and lost their control over Afghanistan's foreign policy.

Afterwards, Amanullah Khan became a national hero, because of his courageous leadership, against-British colonialism, he was given the title "Ghazi". Putting his country in the line of sovereign and independent countries of the world, he wanted the country to progress and be prosperous, so he turned his attention towards the modernization of Afghanistan. He changed his title from Amir to Padshah (King) in 1926.

King Amanullah Khan's plans of modernization were not greeted so warmly by the public in Afghanistan. Consequently, many tribes revolted against him. In the end, the greater uprising of people caused Amanullah Khan to be dethroned from the kingdom. He left Afghanistan and lived in exile in Italy and Switzerland. He died in 1960, and was buried in Jalalabad, near his father's tomb.

UNIT 9

LESSON 6

REVISION

while + the Past Continuous Tense

Remember how we use while with the past continuous tense:

Here are some more examples:

1. While he was leading the government of Afghanistan, his desire to make his nation's education level increased.
2. While he was traveling to Badakhshan for sightseeing, his car punctured.
3. While he was waiting for repairs, a man on a horse came near.

*Remember: there is a comma after the while clause when it begins a sentence and the word While has a capital letter.

We can also change the order of the sentences:

1. His desire to make his nation's education level increased while he was leading the government of Afghanistan.
2. His car had a puncture while he was traveling to Badakhshan for sightseeing.
3. A man on a horse rode and came near while he was waiting for repairs.

*Remember: there is no comma after the while clause when it begins a sentence and the word While has a capital letter.

A. Change the order of these sentences. If they begin with While, change them so that they do not. If they do not begin with while, change them so that they do.

Remember: if the sentence begins with While, you will need a comma.

Example: While I was playing, I lost my toy.

1. While she was playing, she lost her watch.
2. I broke my pencil while I was writing the answers.
3. While I was watching TV, the phone rang.
4. Fahima broke a tooth while she was eating meals.
5. We saw Ramish while we were standing at the bus stop.
6. While it was raining, the explorer collected water in a tin.

B. Change these sentences. If they are with verb “ing”, change them to begin with the word in brackets. If they do not begin with verb “ing”, make them do so.

Example: Finding the door locked, the policemen broke it down. (Because of...)

Because of finding the door locked, the policemen broke it down.

1. Working in a library, he found a very good book. (While.....)
2. Walking on the eggs, he broke them. (By.....)
3. By using a tin-opener, he opened the tin.
4. While I was doing my homework. I broke my pen.
5. Because he has a car, he often drives into the streets.

Verb + ing at the Beginning of a Sentence

Pay attention to the following sentence:

Not recognizing the director, he asked if the director had passed by already.

The beginning of this sentence is a phrase verb + ing. It explains why he asked the question.

When a sentence begins with verb + ing, it can show:

Why something was done

Or when something was done

Or how something was done.

Look at these examples:

Why: Not recognizing Baryalai the director, he asked if the director had passed by.

Living in Jalalabad, we often visit the garden.

When: Crossing the road, he was hit by a car.

How: Using a knife, he opened the letter.

*Remember: there is a comma after those phrases that introduce a sentence.

*Note: sentences like these are common in written English, but they are not usually heard in spoken English.

UNTTEN

EXPLORERS IN THE ANTARCTIC

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

- talk/discuss about the Antarctic.
- use some and any in sentences .
- read paragraphs about scientists explorers in the Antarctic.
- know the new words and use them in sentences.
- use grammatical structures such as; if + past perfect tense, ...would have in written and spoken sentences.

UNIT 10

LESSON 1

EXPLORERS IN THE ANTARCTIC

A. Answer the following questions:

1. What do scientists research in Antarctic?
2. What are their aims/purpose?
3. What does Antarctic look like?
4. Is it possible to live in Antarctic? Why?
5. What kind of animals can you find there?
6. What will happen if the ice and snows in Antarctic melt down?

B. Discuss about any other continents in the world with your teacher and your classmates.

DISCUSSION

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

- 1- Practice the following conversation with your partner.
- 2- Practice the conversation in column A.

|            | A   | B   | C  |
|------------|--|--|---|
| Student A: | Scientists went to the Antarctic, didn't they?                             | Afghan ..... were part of a multinational group, weren't they? | are keen on such journeys, aren't you:          |
| Student B: | Yes, they did.   | weren't  | am  |
| Student A: | Their aim was to sail around Antarctica and research about its atmosphere. | They came from several different countries, didn't they?       | You had to adapt to new conditions, didn't you? |
| Student B: | Yes, it was.   | they did.  | I did.  |
| Student A: | Their plan for the expedition had five stages, didn't it?                  | They hadn't worked together before, had they?                  | You hadn't been there before, had you?          |
| Student B: | Yes, it did.   | No they didn't.  | I hadn't.                                       |

- 3- Make more conversations but this time use the words in columns B and C.

UNIT 10

LESSON 3

GRAMMAR

SOME and ANY

Look at this question:

Can you tell us something about your adventure?

You already know the word some, but this example is a little different. Can you see why this example is different from examples you have seen before? Look at the information below and on the next page. First, you will see some other words like something. Finally, you will see why this example is different.

Look at these two lists:

|       |       |
|-------|-------|
| some  | body  |
| any   | one   |
| every | thing |
| no    | where |

Each of the words on the left can go in front of all the words on the right.

|       |           |          |            |            |
|-------|-----------|----------|------------|------------|
| Some  | somebody  | someone  | something  | somewhere  |
| Any   | anybody   | anyone   | anything   | anywhere   |
| Every | everybody | everyone | everything | everywhere |
| No    | nobody    | no one   | nothing    | nowhere    |

Note that no one is different: It is two words.

GRAMMAR

The words begin with some and any are normally used like some and any:

| Statement          | Question               | negative                  |
|--------------------|------------------------|---------------------------|
| We had some books. | Do you have any books? | We do not have any books. |
| Somebody was here. | Is anybody at home?    | I did not see anybody.    |
| He is somewhere.   | Is he anywhere?        | He is not anywhere.       |

In questions, the word any is normally used, but look at this question again;

Can you tell us something about your adventure?

In this question, the word something is used instead of anything.

The word some, something, someone, somebody and somewhere are often used in questions when we expect the answer Yes. Look at these examples:

Can I borrow some money until tomorrow, please?

You look ill. Is there something wrong with you?

Will someone open the window, please?

Can somebody lend me a pencil, please?

Let's go to a restaurant. Do you know somewhere nice?

UNIT 10

LESSON 3

GRAMMAR

A. Answer these questions with negative sentences.

1. Did you see anybody?
2. Did you go anywhere at the weekend?
3. Can they tell us anything about the accident?
4. Could he reach anyone on the phone?
5. Did they leave anything from dinner?

B. Here are some answers, ask questions for them.

1. No, I did not visit anyone.
2. No, we could not find him anywhere.
3. No, she does not know anyone here.
4. No, she was not able to say anything.
5. No, we did not go anywhere in Thursday.

C. Here are some answers, ask questions for them.

1. Yes, I met my friend.
2. Yes, I will open the window.
3. Yes, he was able to say his name.
4. Yes, she knows the girl in the corner.
5. Yes, they went to the market on Monday.

Scientists *i*n n the *t*he e ANTARCTIC Explorers

In 1989, scientists from all around the world were in an international expedition to the Antarctic.

Fifth, they should share their information for the benefit of everybody and for a greater understanding of the Antarctic.

Their Aim

The aim was to sail around Antarctica and research the amount of ultraviolet light, ozone and pollution in different locations there.

Their Plan

The plan for the expedition had five stages. First, all equipment and materials would be made ready. Second, everyone would become physically fit, be able to ski well and learn to survive in the icy conditions. Third, they would have practice in camping and in Antarctic travel. Fourth, they would do research round the coasts of Antarctica.

The Route

After their preparation in Chile, the team was ready to fly to Antarctica, a land covered with ice and snow. They stayed there for six weeks. During that period, some scientists spent some time at the South Pole before beginning their sea voyage round the continent.

The Supplies and Equipment

They had to take all their food with them because nothing grows there. Fresh water was only a problem on the boat, where it was rationed. Their equipment was designed for survival. It had to keep them warm and dry. For example, they wore several layers of special clothes which let moisture out but not in.

UNIT 10

LESSON 4

Their Experiences

On land, they slept in double sleeping bags in tents. They sheltered there from the sub-zero temperatures outside. One night at sea, there were strong and icy winds. In five-meter waves, the boat crashed into an iceberg. Part of it was knocked off and disappeared to the bottom of the sea. Fortunately, the boat did not sink. If it had sunk, they would have died in the freezing water.

Their Achievement

The multinational team was successful. The world's knowledge about the Antarctic is greater now than before. Individually, each member has his own memories of the experience.

Find the answers to the following questions from the reading on pages 129 and 130. Then write the line number where you found the answer in one box and the letter of the correct answer in the other box

1. The 1989 expedition had .....

UNIT 10

a- dapt (a dapt)(vt/i-reg) 1. (vt) change something to match another purpose or environment.

He adapted a car engine to use in his boat.

2. (vi) change oneself to match another purpose or environment.

She adapts very easily to new situations.

ben-e-fit (ben efit) (vt-reg.) be an advantage or a good thing.

A good education is a benefit to everyone.

Chal lenge (chal lenge.) (vt-reg.) 1. Call someone to compete against you.

2. test someone's ability.

Climbing the mountain challenged his skills.

co-op-e-ra-tion (coope ra tion) (n) working together, help.

The Antarctic expedition needed the cooperation of several countries.

co-op-e-rate (co op erate)(vi-reg) work together, help each other.

ex-plor-er (n) a person who travels to remote places to find out about them.

Early explorers discovered America.

hu-man be-ing (hu man be ing)(n) a person; a man, woman or child.

Human beings cannot live under water.

in-di-vid-u-al-ly (indi vid ually) (adv) affecting only one person; separately.

Sometimes teachers speak to each student individually.

*Note that we add -ly to the adjective individual to make the adverb. This makes the adverb end in -lly. Make adverbs from the following adjectives: geological, medical, personal, professional, seasonal.

mem-o-ry (me mory) (n) 1. an ability to remember things.

She has a good memory. She never forgets anything.

2. an example of remembering.

I have good memories of my holiday in Paghman.

me - m-or-ize (me morize) (vt -reg.) learn.

mois-ture (mois ture) (n) water in small quantities, often in the air or seen on surfaces.

There is moisture in the air on humid days.

You can often see tiny drops of moisture on the bathroom mirror after someone has had a bath or shower.

ration (ra tion) (vt - reg.) limit and control the amount that someone gets.

In the desert, water for soldiers was rationed to four litres a day.

During the war, butter was rationed. The ration was 50 grams per person per day.

ul-tra-vi-o-let (ul tra vi olet) (adj) (about light) consisting of rays that cannot be seen by human eyes.

Word Study

Use words from the box to complete the following definitions. Write the whole definition out on the line. You will not need to use all the words. The first one is an example.

|        |             |             |          |         |
|--------|-------------|-------------|----------|---------|
| adapt  | challenging | cooperation | moisture | memory  |
| voyage | ration      | expedition  | sub-zero | benefit |

1. A .....is a long journey or trip, usually by sea.

A voyage is a long journey or trip, usually by sea

---

2. To .....means to change something to match another purpose or environment.

3. An.....is a journey or voyage with a scientific purpose.

4. Something which is .....tests a person's ability.

5. ....temperatures are temperatures below 0° Centigrade.

6. A.....is an advantage or a good thing.

7. ....means working together or helping each other.

8. To.....something is to control the amount which someone receives.

9. ....is water in small amounts in the air.

10. ....is the ability to remember something.

UNIT 10

LESSON 6

REVISION

If + Past Perfect, ...would have

Do you remember this from page 128?

*Fortunately, the boat did not sink.
If the boat had sunk, they would have died.*

We use this when think about the past and imagine that the opposite happened. What were the facts?

*Did the boat sink?

No, it didn't.

*Did they die?

No, they didn't.

The facts were: The boat did not sink and they did not die.

But we can imagine the opposite.

If the boat had sunk, they would have died.

Study the clause:

| If | Subject  | had | past participle | , | subject | would have | past participle |
|----|----------|-----|-----------------|---|---------|------------|-----------------|
| If | the boat | had | sunk            | , | they    | would have | died.           |

Read these sentences. Say if each one is fact or imagined. Did they really happen or not?

1. Scientists went to the Antarctic. They did some research.
2. If they had not gone there, they would not have learned to ski.
3. If they had not had a boat, they would not have sailed around Antarctic.
4. The boat crashed into an iceberg and part of it was knocked off.
5. If the boat had not crashed, part of it would not have been knocked off.

Not: If the fact sentence is negative, the imagined sentence is positive (not negative).

|                 |  |
|-----------------|--|
| Fact     | The boat did not sink and they did not die. |
| Imagined | If the boat had sunk, they would have died. |

Note: If the fact sentence is positive, the imagined sentence is negative.

|                 |   |
|-----------------|---|
| Fact     | The boat crashed into an iceberg and part of it was knocked off.         |
| Imagined | If the boat had not crashed, part of it would not have been knocked off. |

Make a sentence for each situation shown below.

Each sentence should contain if + the past perfect and would have.
The first one is done for you.

1. You did not watch that TV program.
The next day your friend told you that you would have enjoyed it.
If I had watched that TV program, I would have enjoyed it.
2. It was raining very hard. You wanted to go out. Your father told you to wait, but went out and got wet. Five minutes later, the rain stopped.
If I had waited five minutes, the rain _____
3. Kabir did not study very hard. He failed the test.

UNIT ELEVEN

CALLIGRAPHY

At the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- talk/discuss about calligraphy.
- compare people and things.
- read a topic about calligraphy
- know the new words and use them in sentences.

UNIT 11

LESSON 1

CALLIGRAPHY

DISCUSSION

A. Discuss the following questions with your teacher and your classmates.

1. What does a calligrapher do?
2. Can we see calligraphy only in Dari/Pashto?

Finally discuss these general questions about calligraphy in English with your teacher.

1. Can you name any other scripts in Dari/Pashto?
2. Is calligraphy important? Why or why not?
3. Where can you see calligraphy in everyday life?

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

1. Practice the conversation in column A below.

|    | A  | B   | C  |
|----|---|--|---|
| A: | Your handwriting is terrible.You should try to improve it.   | spoken English  | arithmetic   |
| B: | But I'm doing my best.  | But.....  | But.....   |
| A: | No, you're not. Look at your brother's handwriting .It's much better than yours.It's clearer and easier to read. | Listen to ....spoken English...more fluent andeasier tounderstand | Look at...arithmetic...faster and morecorrect |
| B: | Oh, yes. But he's taken a special course. It was called...  |  |   |
| A: | Calligraphy .. Yes, I can tell.  | Spoken English  | Night SchoolMaths                                       |

2. Make more conversations but this time use the words in columns B and C.

UNIT 11

LESSON 3

GRAMMAR

Comparing People and Things (Revision)

Comparing two People or Things

Look at the following sentences:

Your brother's handwriting is better than yours.

It's clearer than yours.

It is easier to understand than yours.

It is faster than yours.

Remember that we add (er) to many adjectives when we want to compare two things and add than if we name both.

Clear..... clearer (than that)

Fast..... faster (than that)

But remember these spelling rules:

If an adjective ends with an e, add r only:

Safe..... safer (than that)

Simple..... simpler (than that)

If the adjective ends with a y, change the y to ier.

Easy..... Easier (than that)

And remember that some adjectives are irregular:

Good..... better (than that)

Bad..... Worst (than that)

Look at this summary:

| Adjectives | _____er      | _____est     |
|-------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| slow              | slower than  | The slowest  |
| clear             | clearer than | The clearest |
| safe              | safer than   | The safest   |
| simple            | simpler than | The simplest |
| easy              | easier than  | The easiest  |
| good              | better than  | The best     |
| bad               | worse than   | The worst    |

Longer Adjective

All the adjectives in above table are short. All of them (except easy) have only one syllable.

Longer adjective (with more than one syllable) do not usually take _____er or _____est. Instead, the word more or the most are put in front of them.

Have you used these conversations in your daily life?

It's more fluent and easier to understand.
It's faster and more correct.

Look at this summary:

| Adjective | More + adjective    | The most + adjective |
|------------------|----------------------------|-----------------------------|
| correct          | more correct than   | the most correct     |
| fluent           | more fluent than    | the most fluent      |
| beautiful        | more beautiful than | the most beautiful   |

UNIT 11

LESSON 3

Grammar

A. Use the words in brackets to complete the sentences.

Decide if you should use – er or – est. The first two are examples.

1. Hamid is the tallest student in the class. (tall)
2. That car is safer than the other one. (safe)
3. This exercise is _____ the last one. (easy)
4. Which is _____ football team in Afghanistan? (good)
5. One English script is _____ the others. (clear)
6. A propeller plane is normally _____ jet plane. (slow)
7. This is _____ winter weather for ten years. (bad)
8. Many people say that Dari and Pashto are _____ than English to learn.
(simple)
9. This summer is _____ the last. (hot) (be careful with the spelling)
10. That shop sells _____ soft drinks in this area. (cold)

Grammar

B. Use the words in brackets to complete the sentences.
Decide if you should use – er or est, The first two are examples.

1. Kabul University is older than Kabul Educational University. (old)
2. Which English script is the most beautiful of all? (beautiful)
3. Kabul University is _____ in Afghanistan. (large)
4. My father's English is _____ mine. (fluent)
5. Joe was _____ Pip's sister. (warm-hearted)
6. Who is _____ person you know? (kind)
7. That restaurant makes _____ food in town. (good)
8. People say that English is _____ Dari and Pashto to learn (difficult)
9. In the world, tea is _____ coffee. (popular)
10. Is learning grammar _____ learning new words? (important)

LESSON 4

READING

CALLIGRAPHY

Calligraphy Calligraphy

As there are different scripts in Arabic, Persian and Pashto calligraphy which you recognize them as Nastaliq, Naskh, and Kufi, English language also has many different scripts. Perhaps they are not so important in English nowadays as different scripts are in Arabic, Persian and Pashto. Calligraphy is probably the most important form of art for Muslims. It is seen not only in the holy Qur'an and in books, but also in many other places. It is used, for the decoration of buildings. There are wall-hangings, framed samples and inscriptions inside and outside public and private buildings. In the western world, the art of calligraphy declined with the introduction of printing and typewriters. However, it is now becoming more popular again and calligraphers are in demand to illustrate books, posters, cards, letterheads and many other things.

Some of the different English scripts are so common that you will almost certainly see them in your reading. Three of the most common scripts used are Roman (based on letters developed by the Romans about 2,000 years ago). Gothic which developed in northern Europe between 10th and 15th centuries AD and Italic (during 15th and 16th century Italy.) There are some examples of alphabets in these three scripts in the top of the next page.

How common are these scripts and where will you see them? Roman script is probably the most common. This is because it is the clearest and easiest to read. Almost all the newspapers, magazines and books which you will ever see in English use some form of the Roman script. Gothic script is quite difficult to read, even for native speakers. It is usually seen on letter heads, in the names of newspapers, and outside buildings. Italic scripts as you see it on the next page is always written by hand. However, a slanted version of Roman script is often used in printing to stress or emphasize things, and this is also called Italic. Look at the examples on the next page. Decide which of the English scripts is used in each example and why it is used.

COMPARING PEOPLE & THINGS

Remember how we compare when using short adjectives:

| Adjective | _____er             | _____est            |
|-----------|---------------------|---------------------|
| slow      | slower than  | the slowest  |
| clear     | clearer than | the clearest |
| safe      | safer than   | the safest   |
| simple    | simpler than | the simplest |
| easy      | easier than  | the easiest  |
| good      | better than  | the best     |
| bad       | worse than   | the worst    |

Now remember how we compare when using longer adjectives.

| Adjective | More                              | Most                       |
|-----------|-----------------------------------|----------------------------|
| useful    | more useful than    | the least safe      |
| popular   | more popular than   | the least useful    |
| beautiful | more beautiful than | the least important |

Do you remember the opposite of more and most?

We use less than and the least with long and short adjectives.

| Adjective | Less                              | least                      |
|-----------|-----------------------------------|----------------------------|
| Safe      | Less safe than      | The least safe      |
| Useful    | Less useful than    | The least useful    |
| Important | Less important than | The least important |

Note: There is one syllable in safe.
There are two syllables in useful.
Three syllables in important.

UNIT 11

LESSON 6

Now look at these sentences from the reading passage.

Perhaps they are not as important in English as different scripts are in Arabic, Dari/Pashto.

Remember, we use this when things are not similar
Here are some more examples:

I am not as clever as you.
Jamshid is as happy as Rabbani.

Now remember how we show things that are similar.

I am as clever as you.
Jamshid is as happy as Rabbani.

Finally, remember centuries in English:

| We say:                     | but we write                 | which means the years: |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------|------------------------|
| The seventh century         | The 7 th century  | 600 to 699             |
| The tenth century           | The 10 th century | 900 to 999             |
| The fifteenth century       | The 15 th century | 1400 to 1499           |
| The sixteenth century       | The 16 th century | 1500 to 1599           |
| The seventeenth century     | The 17 th century | 1600 to 1699           |
| The eighteenth century      | The 18 th century | 1700 to 1799           |
| The nineteenth century      | The 19 th century | 1800 to 1899           |
| The twentieth century       | The 20 th century | 1900 to 1999           |
| The twenty – first century  | The 21 st century | 2000 to 2099           |
| The twenty – second century | The 22 nd century | 2100 to 2199           |
| The twenty – third century  | The 23 rd century | 2200 to 2299           |
| etc.                        | etc.                         | etc                    |

REVISION

A. Use the words in brackets to complete the sentences.

Decide if you should use er or est, more than or the most. The first one is an example.

1. Roman script is more common than Gothic Script. (common)
2. Roman script is _____ of the three English scripts to read. (easy)
3. Which is _____ soft drink in Afghanistan? (popular)
4. Jamshid is _____ Rabbani. (young)

B. Use the words in brackets to complete these sentences. Decide if you should use more than, less than, the most or the least.

1. Mr. Hamidi is _____ his brother. He gives lots of money to the poor but his brother gives less. (generous)
2. He is _____ man in the world. (careful)

---

C. Use the words in brackets to complete the following sentences.

1. Iran is _____ Afghanistan. (big)
2. He is _____ his elder brother. They are both 1 meter 75. (tall)

UNIT TWELVE

THE EXPANSION OF THE HOLLY MOSQUE AT MAKKAH AL-MOKARRAMAH

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

- talk/discuss about the expansion of the holy mosque at Makkah Al-Mokarramah.
- use some grammatical points such as: adjectives made from more than one word, countable and uncountable nouns.
- read a paragraphs about the expansion of the holy mosque at Makkah Al-Mokarramah..
- know the new words and use them in sentences.

THE EXPANSION OF THE HOLY MOSQUE AT MAKKAH AL-MOKARRAMAH

DISCUSSION:

A. Try to answer the following questions.

1. What is the total area of the holy Mosque at Makkah now?
2. What was the area of the Holy Mosque at Makkah before the first Saudi extension?

B. Look at the words on the left and those in the box. Choose the words from the box which you think best explain the words on the left:

- |                |                     |
|----------------|---------------------|
| 1. Room        | a. A person praying |
| 2. Worshipper  | b. You are welcome. |
| 3. Normal      | c. ordinary         |
| 4. Not at all. | d. space            |

C. Finally, what do you know about the extension of the Holy mosque in Makkah?

Discuss this in English with your teacher and classmates.

UNIT 12

LESSON 2

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

1. Practice the conversation in column A below with your partner in the class.

|        | A  | B  | C  |
|--------|---|---|---|
| Najib: | Can you give us some information about the Holy Mosque at Makkah?           | Polytechnic University in Kabul                      | Passengers Terminal at Kabul international airport.       |
| Amin:  | Yes, certainly. For a start, it has room for 1,000,000 worshippers.         | can accommodate 15,000 students                      | can handle 80,000 passengers a day                        |
| Najib: | What about the design?  |   |   |
| Amin:  | It matches the rest of the building and has two new 89 meter-high minarets. | is very modern and covers a 9 square kilometer area. | The international Terminal is newly built in modern shape |
| Najib: | Thank you for telling us those interesting facts.                           |   |   |
| Amin:  | Not at all.   |   |   |

2. Make more conversations, but this time use the words in columns B and C.

GRAMMAR

ADJECTIVES MADE FROM MORE THAN ONE WORD

Look at these adjectives and learn them carefully:

It has two new 89-meter-high minarets.

It covers a 9-square-kilometer area.

It has many 46-meter-high pillars.

Note the hyphens:

89-meter-high

Note there is no S to show the plural.

Here are some more examples:

A ten-Afghani note.

He is a 13-year-old boy.

The Kabah is a 13.8-meter-high building.

UNIT 12

LESSON 3

Grammar

Countable and Uncountable Nouns

Look at this sentence from the conversation in lesson 1:

The Holy Mosque in Makkah now has room for 730,000 worshippers.

The words room and worshippers are both nouns. However, they are very different.

They have different meanings, of course, but there is another important difference.

You can count worshippers but you cannot count room.

(Remember. This word room means space. It is not the same as a room in a house. You can count the rooms in a house.)

We call worshippers a countable noun. We call room an uncountable noun.

It is important to know if a noun is countable or uncountable because you cannot do certain things with uncountable nouns:

- ❖ You cannot use numbers with uncountable nouns.
- ❖ You cannot use a or an with uncountable nouns.
- ❖ You cannot make uncountable nouns plural.
- ❖ You cannot ask questions with How many ...?

(You must use How much ...?)

- ❖ You cannot use fewer / the fewest (You must use less / the least.)

GRAMMAR

A. Answer the following questions. What kind of .....is it? With adjectives like these:

|   |               |      |
|---|---------------|------|
| a | five-Afghanis | note |
| a | 4-year-old    | boy  |

UNIT 12

LESSON 3

B. You can find out if a noun is countable or uncountable by looking in a dictionary. In many dictionaries, countable nouns have (nc) after them and uncountable nouns have (nu) after them. Here are two examples.

(nc)

ad-ven-ture (ad venture) (nc) an exciting or dangerous event or journey.

He wrote a book about his adventures in the jungle.

The explorer told us about his adventure in the Antarctic.

(nu)

phar – ma – col – o – gy
(pharmacology) (nu) the scientific study of medicines and their effects.

He is studying pharmacology. He can tell you what that medicine contains.

Look at the word study of this unit. Look at all the nouns.

Make a list of all the countable nouns on the left on the next page.

Make a list of all the uncountable nouns on the right on the next page.

READING

THE EXPANSION OF THE HOLY MOSQUE AT MAKKAH AL-MOKARRAMAH

The Holy Mosque at the Time of the Prophet Muhammad
(Peace Be Upon Him)

The Expansion of The Holy Mosque At Makkah Al Mukarramah

On Tuesday, 2 Safar 1409 AH (13 September 1988 AD), the Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques, King Fahd, laid the foundation stone for a new addition to the Holy Mosques at Makkah Al-Mukarramah.

History

This is not the first time that the Mosque has been expanded. If you look at the plans in the previous page, you will see that it was enlarged eight times between the days of the prophet Muhammad (Peace be upon him) and the Saudi period.

Expansion under the Al-Saud Family

The first expansion

The first Saudi expansion took place between 1375 and 1396 AH (1955 and 1976 AD).

You can see how large this was on the right.

The First Saudi Expansion
(1375-1396 AH)

UNIT 12

LESSON 4

The second Saudi Expansion

With the latest expansion, the total area of the Holy Mosques has reached 361, 000m. This gives enough room for 730, 000 worshippers for everyday prayer and Umrah. The number which it can accommodate has increased to 1, 000,000 during the pilgrimage season.

What has been added?

The main addition is a large annex built onto the western side of the Mosque where 140, 000 worshippers can pray. It consists of three floors; a basement, a ground floor and a first floor. The annex has one main entrance, fourteen secondary entrances and two new 89-meter-high minarets. The Mosque now has a total of three main entrances and twenty-seven secondary entrances. Each of the minarets is similar in height and design to the seven minarets which the Mosque had before.

In addition to this, a large open plaza has been created to the east of Al- Mas'a (between As – Safa and Al – Marwah) which can accommodate 65, 000 worshippers.

Escalators

In order to help pilgrims, particularly elderly ones, to move from floor to floor, two new escalators have been built next to the extension; one at the northern end and one at the southern end. Each of these can handle 15,000 people per hour.

Power and Ventilation

Two new power stations provide the electricity for the additional lighting, loudspeakers, TV studios, telephones and clocks. Central air-conditioning has been provided for the basement. The ground floor and first floor are ventilated by the natural flow of air from windows and doors, aided by ceiling fans.

Water

The new building includes a modern rainfall drainage system. Zamzam water is available to pilgrims from 60 taps on the ground floor and 36 on the first floor. A sewer network and a fire-fighting sprinkler system have also been built in.

This model shows the completed expansion very clearly.

UNIT 12

LESSON 4

READING

Read the following statements about the passage. Put T (True) or F (False) and the line number. Write out the statement if you put F.

1.   The Holy Mosque in Makah was expanded eight times between the year 1 AH and 1375 AH.

---
2.   The total area of the Mosque is now 730, 000m<sup>2</sup>

---
3.   The new annex has been built on the western side of the Mosque.

---
4.   The mosque has now a total of fourteen secondary entrances.

---
5.   The new escalators can handle 15. 000 people every day.

---
6.   There are 96 taps for Zamzam water in the new building.

---
